Dedication

For your patience and understanding of our student problems, we are honored to dedicate L'Envoi 1962 to you

THOMAS J. KEENAN

In our years at Roosevelt, you have used every opportunity to know each student, to help each one adjust to new conditions. Many came seeking advice; they left with assurance and warm friendship.

Your ability to blend the old and the new has been a vital force in the functioning of our Roosevelt. In the last three years many innovations have taken place: an increase in the student body, the expansion of the building program, and the changes in administration. With your able assistance, the pressures that accompany these innovations have been eased, and Roosevelt has maintained its high standard of excellence.

To you, Mr. Keenan, the Class of 1962 humbly offers its thanks.

"And gladly wolde he learne, and gladly teche."

Chaucer

These few words form a fitting description of two inspired teachers, Mrs. May M. Henry and Mrs. Arlene Moeller.

MRS. ARLENE MOELLER

MRS. MAY HENRY

To each student in the art classes at Roosevelt, Mrs. Arlene Moeller, who retired in January, was a source of knowledge, a quickening inspiration, a personal friend. With the deft touch of a talented artist, she developed the creative imagination and skill of her students while still instructing them in the fundamental disciplines of art forms.

Her influence was felt, not only in the character of her students, but also in the atmosphere of the entire school. Posters in the corridors, cartoons and sketches in the Crimson Echo and our own L'Envoi, scenery for shows and assemblies, all were silent witnesses of the talent awakened by Mrs. Moeller.

She revealed to her students the opportunity and their responsibility to serve their community through the Art Service League. The many awards and prizes won by her students during her Roosevelt years made the world outside as aware of her talented touch as we have been.

When Mrs. Henry retires this June, thirty-seven years of devoted teaching in Roosevelt will come to a close. Through her enthusiastic dedication, energy, and keen wit, the study of English became a living, wonderful thing. She encouraged her students to wander through the world of literature subtly guiding them to appreciate the finer writings. Skillfully, she helped them to express their own opinions and thoughts with clarity and imagination.

Mrs. Henry's excellence as a teacher was recognized with her appointment as coordinator of English Education in the city of Yonkers. In furthering her desire for the improvement of education, she became active in city, county, and state teachers' associations, and her leadership brought about her election as president of the New York State Teachers' Association.

Although active in so many community services, first and foremost Mrs. Henry was a teacher, and one of whom we at Roosevelt are especially proud.

Meeting of the minds

The close of the school year sees Roosevelt once again spotlighted in the city in both scholastic and athletic affairs. Largely responsible for this position are Harold F. Reagan, and Thomas J. Keenan, friendly and efficient administrators. They began their administration wanting only the best for our faculty and student body, and have always given their best to achieve it.

Working together for two fruitful years, Mr. Reagan and Mr. Keenan have developed a spirit of efficient teamwork and friendship which they transmit to us in our extra-curricular activities as well as schoolwork. When we speak of Roosevelt with warmth and pride, we also speak with appreciation for the leadership and cooperation of these two men.

A chat with the Chief

Guidance Office

Mrs. Mary Troy gives some friendly advice.

"Who, me? Princeton?" "Apply for a scholarship?" "A job from three to six? Perfect!" "Was that a 684 or a 486?" These are among the myriad questions asked of the over-burdened but cheerful team in the GUIDANCE OFFICE. Some of the answers let us down gently, but all are given in the spirit of helpfulness and complete understanding. "No! I think that State U. is more your atmosphere." "Sure! The Regents Board gives out millions!" "Yes! It pays peanuts but . . ." "Your board scores? Guess!"

More and more emphasis is placed on the positions of these counselors as they help us to realize our abilities and live up to our potentials. Upon graduation, we hope to be responsible adults ready to take our places and achieve our just rewards in today's rough and challenging world.

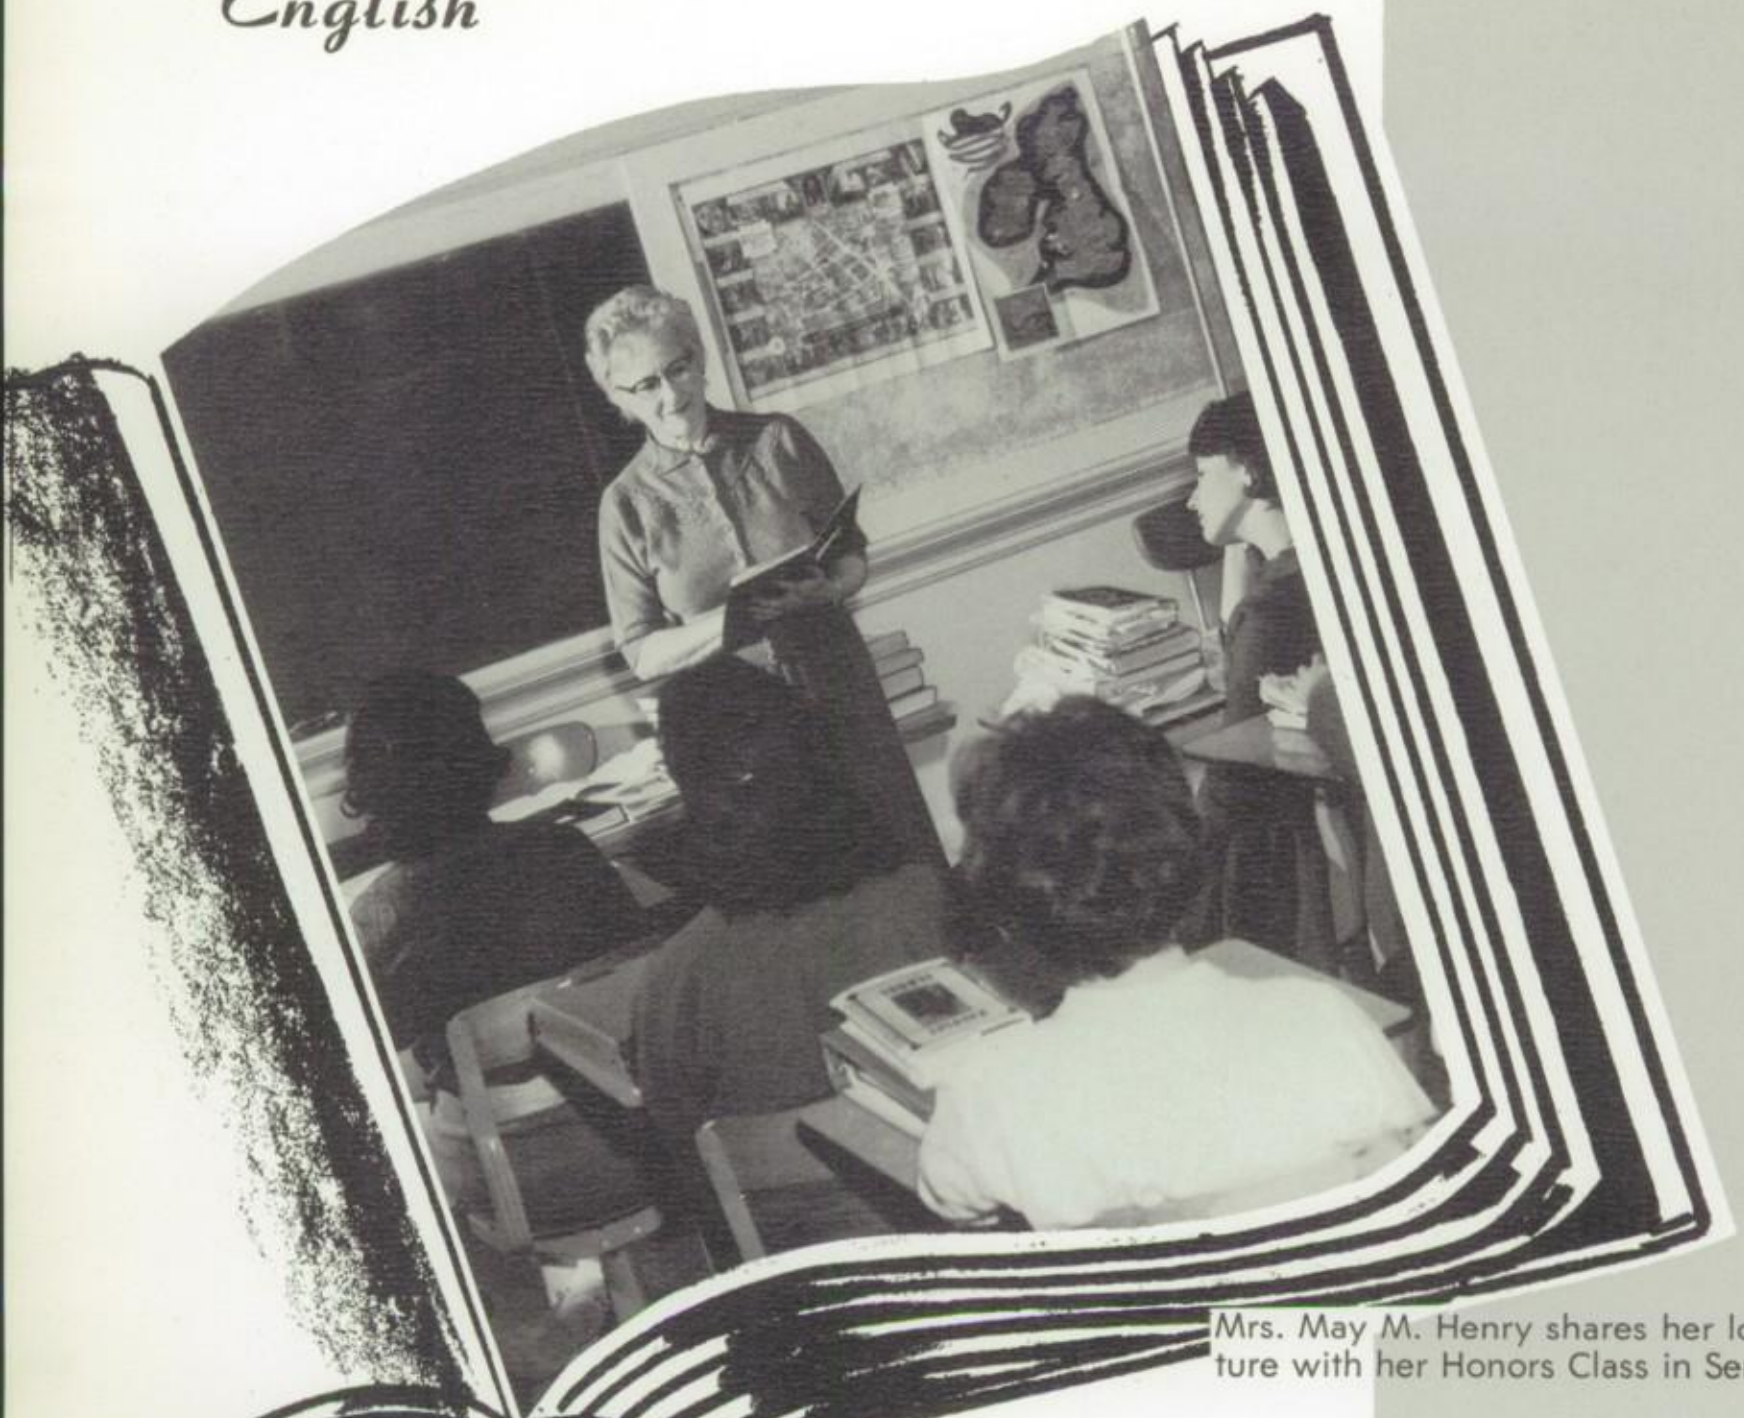
Mr. Melvin Guttman writes another recommendation.

Mr. Melvin Guttman, Miss Genelle Wride, Mr. Thomas J. Keenan, and Mrs. Gertrude Tyrrell have their weekly conference.

Louise and Marilyn scrutinize the college requirements.

Mrs. Gertrude Tyrrell—and all those catalogs.

English



Mrs. May M. Henry shares her love of literature with her Honors Class in Senior English.

"Actions speak louder than words"—rehearsal for the English Department assembly program.

Seated: Mrs. Florence Lafferty, Dr. Ruby Kaiser, Mrs. May Henry, Mrs. Aldona Brucker. Standing: Miss Katherine Willner, Mrs. Francine Fettman, Mr. Austin Kilcullen, Mrs. Hildegarde Rogel, Mrs. Mabel Chappel.

Through our years in Roosevelt, we've accompanied Odysseus on his many travels, sat in the lists watching brave Ivanhoe, and even found ourselves involved in murders with a man named Macbeth. We've faced danger in two cities and traced a mysterious family history in a house of seven gables—all these experiences coming to us through the medium of great books.

Many a time, when we tried to put our own thoughts into words, we've become lost and confused. But with the aid of a dictionary, a Warriner's English handbook, and a very stimulating teacher, we soon found our way again. The local paper-back gallery became a sanctuary for all students of Shakespeare, the natural outcome of the gradual development from the Dick and Jane series of grammar school days.

Mrs. Elsa Brisk concentrates on sophomore compositions.

Languages

"Comprende Usted?" says Dr. Walters.

Mrs. Rodner makes her poin

Widen your travel opportunities! Roosevelt's LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT makes you a relaxed carefree traveller. Maybe they don't offer Burmese or Swahili, but they do teach French, Spanish, German and Latin. Beginners learn the fundamentals while fourth year scholars tackle the fine points with plenty of "esprit de corps".

And let it be known that Latin is no longer a "dead" language. Winnie Ille Pu takes students into many amusing adventures. In French, students yodel songs while the Spaniards of Roosevelt trail a knight errant and a traveling frog.

S. Buckley

Mrs. Buckley likes this language.

Mrs. Steiner's at her register.

Seated: Mrs. Suzanne Buckley, Mrs. Gertrude Rodner, Dr. Sadie Walter, Mrs. Gertrude Steiner. Standing: Mr. Louis Morse, Dr. Walter Kaufmann.

History

Dr. Cleverdon's smile says that Brett Auerhahn's answer is correct.

Row 1: Mrs. Lillian Mayer, Dr. Catherine Cleverdon, Miss Alice Scott, Miss Irene Montgomery, Mrs. Claire D'Amore. Row 2: Mr. Ivan Bottenstein, Mr. John Humphrey, Dr. Walter Kaufmann, Mr. Adam Downar.

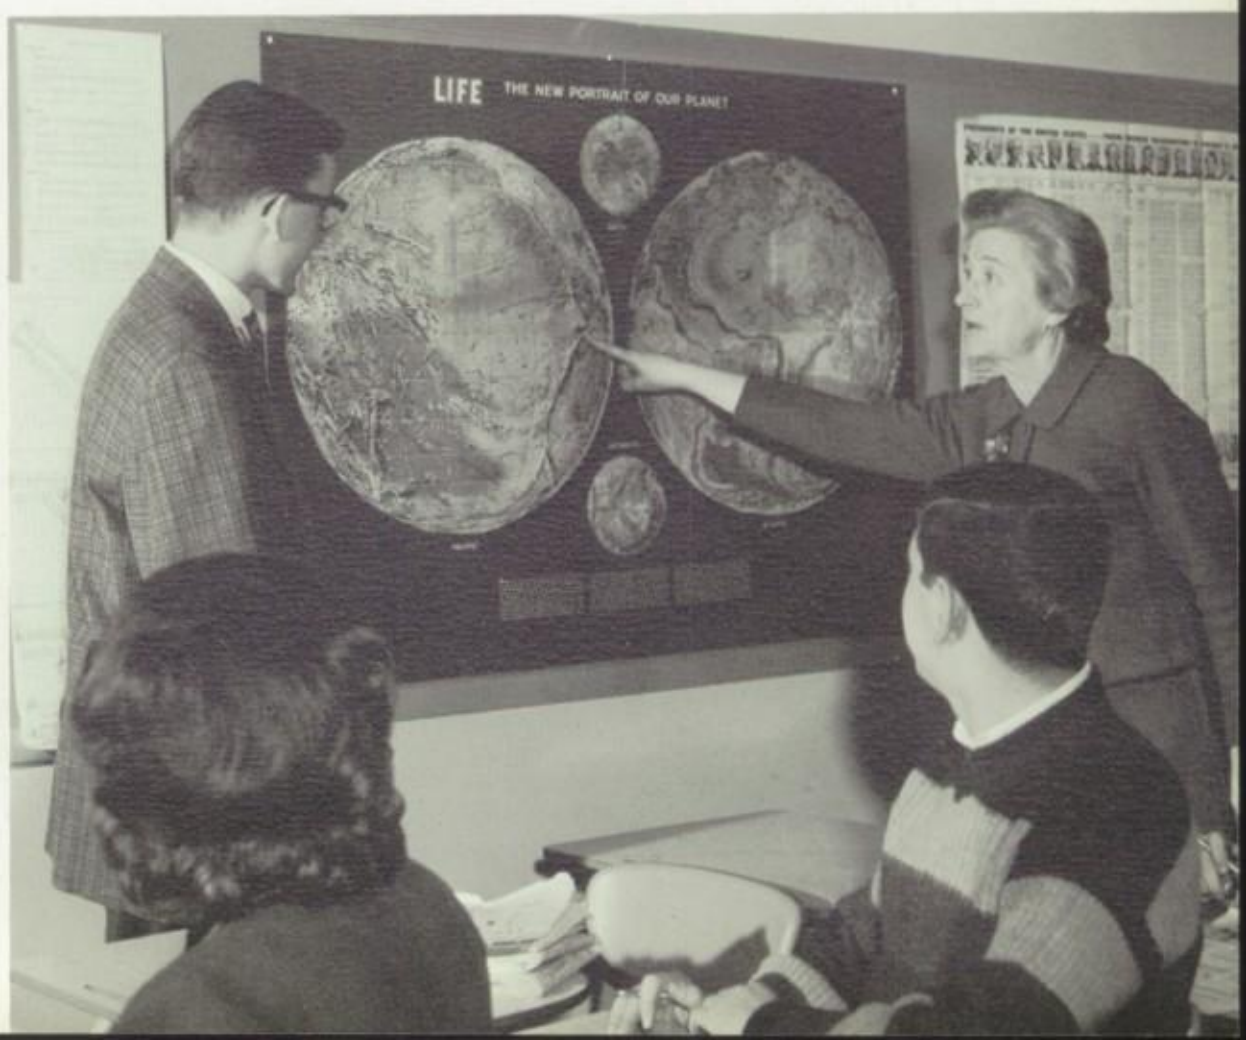
Miss Scott has a quizzical look—Joan Ortolani must be confused.

Mr. Downar surveys the scene

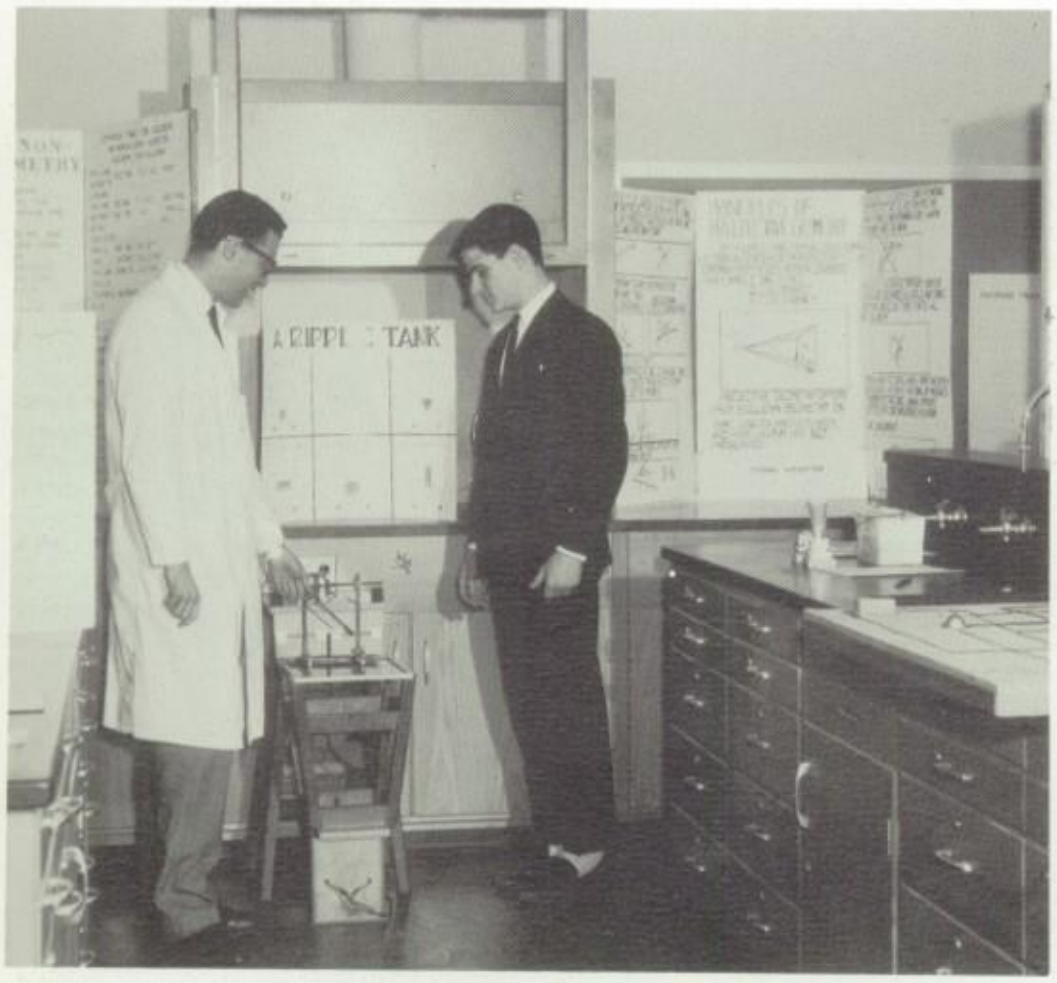
"And over here's Roosevelt," points out Miss Montgomery.

Around the world in eighty days? Not quite, but we do complete the trip in three years under the direction of our most capable history teachers.

Booklets come and booklets go but history is here to stay. Times are tempting in the Times, and we know good newspapers don't have to be dull! Although we find ourselves out in the Pacific at one moment and back in the White House the next, by June we know we have been given a complete and thorough knowledge of the events of history. If we take advantage of this excellent training we will find ourselves better students at college and better informed citizens in later life.



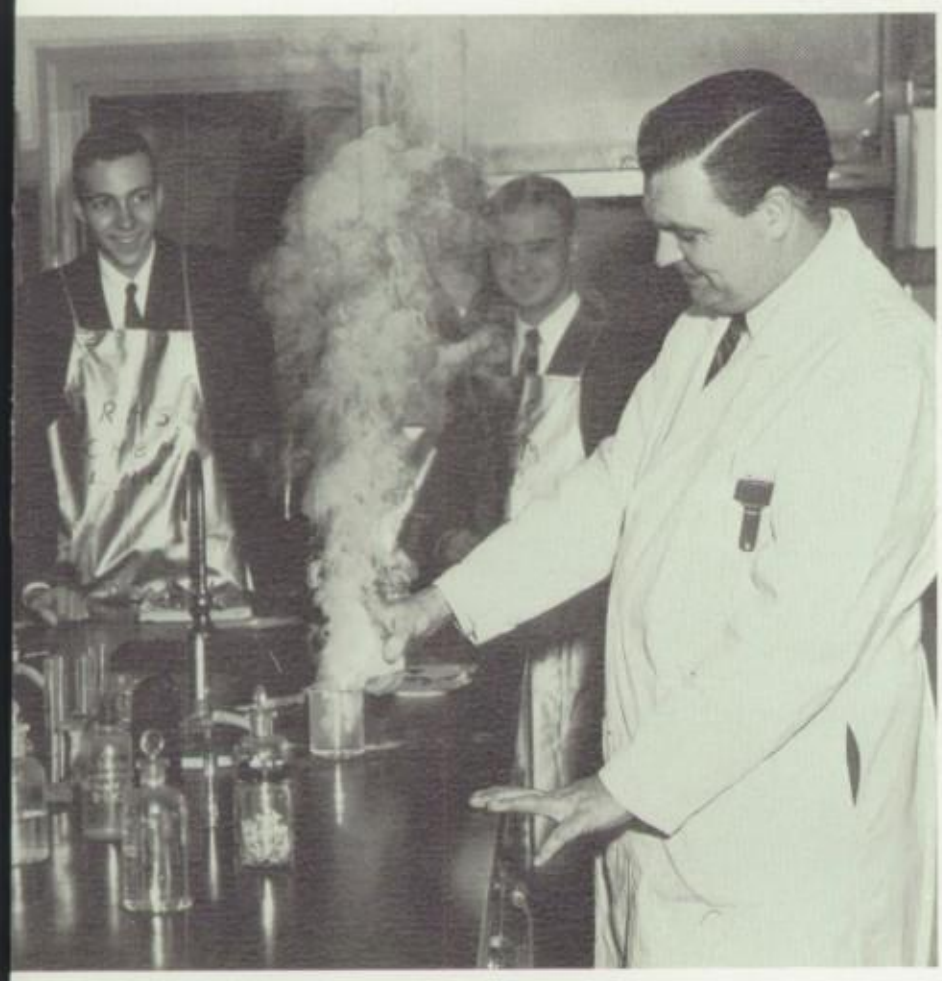
Science



"Now, you attach this gizmo to that whatchamajingy . . ."

"And then we add a little Nitro . . .," instructs Mr. Aitcheson.

Seated: Mrs. Katherine Ernst, Miss Margaret Dignan, Mr. Bruce Worthington. Standing: Mr. Edmund Eisenberg, Mr. David Aitcheson, Mr. Thomas Martin, Mr. Joseph Rodner.



"How can a sixteenth of an inch make that much difference?"

"Double, double, toil and trouble, test tube burn and beaker bubble." So echoes the chant from the weird sisters and brothers who skillfully measure and mix chemicals on the third floor under our SCIENCE teachers' capable guidance. One floor beneath our cheerful chemists, shouts of "It's alive!" herald curious students gather around to peer at a fourth-of-a-millimeter amoeba streaming under the microscope. Our level-headed physics whizzes determine leverage, calculate formulas and solutions from slide rules, and light up the labs in a proud display of the scope of this department.

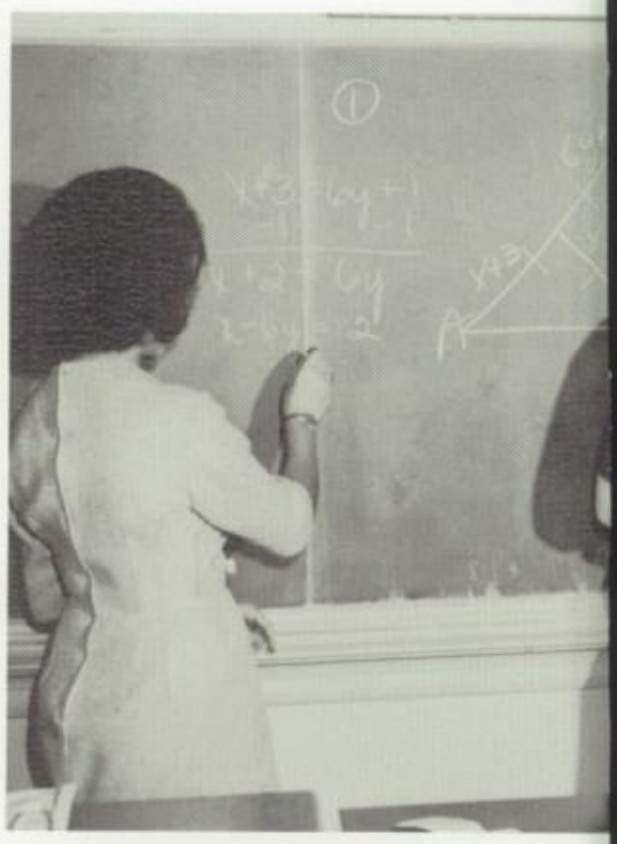
Roosevelt's future scientists labor long in Biology, Chemistry, and Physics rooms well-equipped to interest budding minds. An amiable, efficient, and exceptional staff strive to lead us up the stepping-stones of science towards more complex and rewarding work.

"It says, somewhere, how to put it back together."

Mathematics

Seated: Mrs. Kathleen Sussingham, Mr. Luther VanAnden, Mrs. Otilia Comparato. Standing: Mr. Robert McDaniel, Mr. Louis Morse, Mr. Harry Goder. Absent: Mrs. Miriam Gabin.

The light of knowledge shines on Mrs. Comparato's face.



Mrs. Gabin instructs a student in the trickiness of triangles.

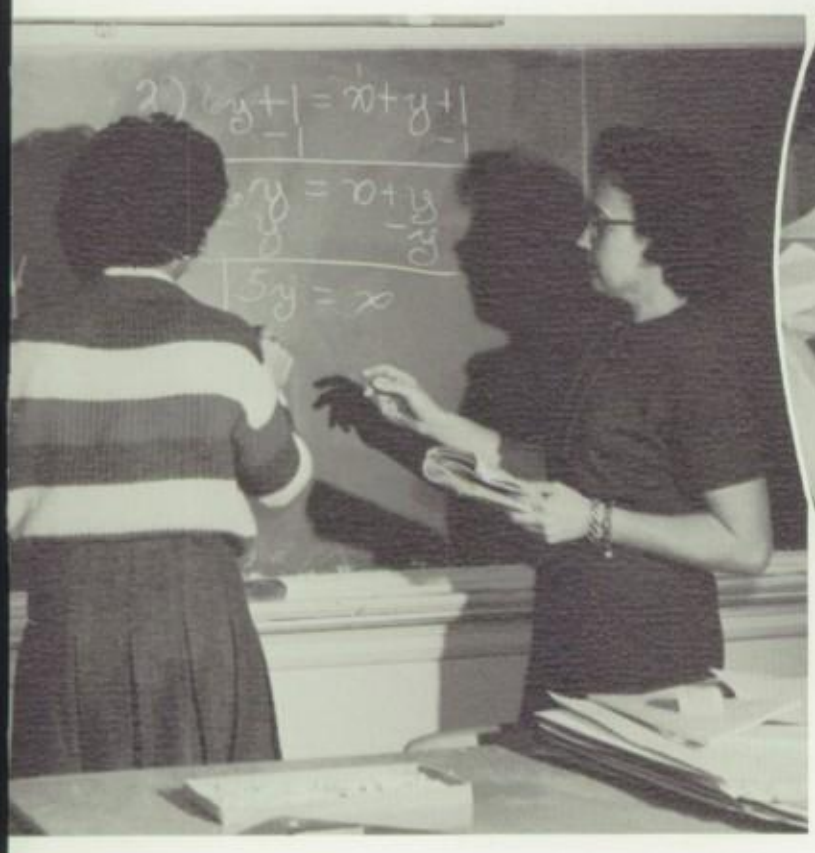
MATH DEPARTMENT

"There is no royal road to geometry"—nor to any math for that matter! However, in Roosevelt, the road to math is traveled by many interested students. They are led down the path to success by Mr. Van Anden, the head of our MATH DEPARTMENT, and the other capable and interested members of the staff.

On the trip from elementary algebra to solid geometry, Roosevelt students have been given not only the opportunity to further their knowledge of this subject, but also the opportunity to do advanced work for their own enjoyment and in preparation for college. This is accomplished through such courses as analytic geometry and calculus.

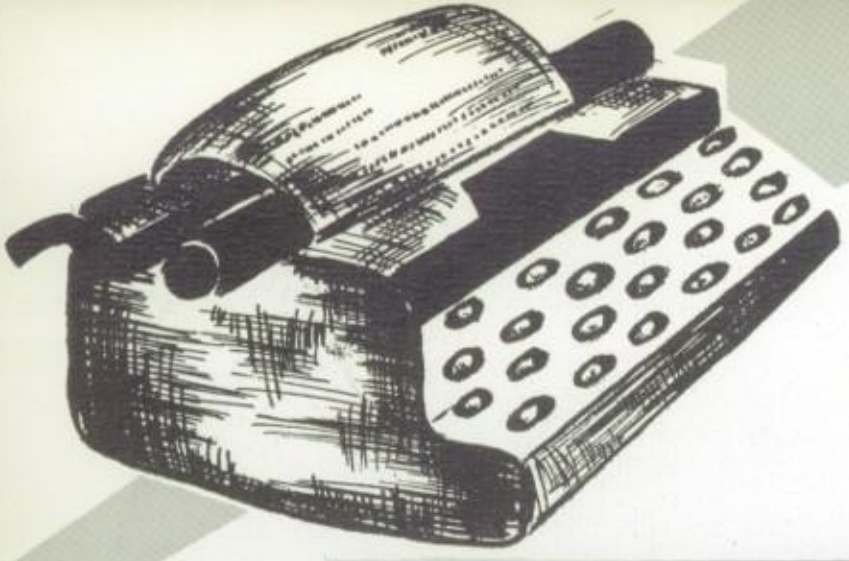
Given these various opportunities, students certainly will have no difficulty in traveling the road to further math success.

"And in the first box we have . . .," says Mr. Goder.



Been nice knowing you "Van"

Mr. Van contemplates spouting another witicism.



Business

Mrs. Hammer extends a helping hand to Karen Lesh.

"Dear Mr. President . . .!"

Mrs. McCurdy guides Nancy Guiliani to easy typing.

Mary Jane Scollins and Judi Sullivan run off the daily notices.

It may be a mechanical world but even Roosevelt students with two left hands can master the talent of typing. That certain touch, on the typewriter, of course, and fluency in the language of letters are the magic ingredients in the formula for success.

The road to success is not a one way street, however. The student with a knowledge of business math and law, of economics and such, can walk with a confident step as he seeks his place in the hustle and bustle of today's business world.

Here at Roosevelt the future busy bees of business are trained through a combined program of learning, assistance and experience. When the business world beckons they will be ready.

Mrs. Beatrice Hammer, Mrs. Antoinette McCurdy, Miss Sandra Mazur.

Mr. Hunter casts critical eye on Dennis Durniak's drawing.

Under the skilled guidance of our ARTS DEPARTMENT faculty, Roosevelt students are offered the opportunity of creative self-expression as well as training for possible future careers.

The Visual Arts Department has for many years been under the capable direction of Mrs. Arlene Moeller who retired this year. Miss Maxine Senter was appointed in her place.

In the field of music Miss Andrews' choir and Mr. Humphrey's band have become familiar and well-beloved sights and sounds around Roosevelt. Under the leadership of these skilled musicians, one may study theory, music, voice, as well as an instrument.

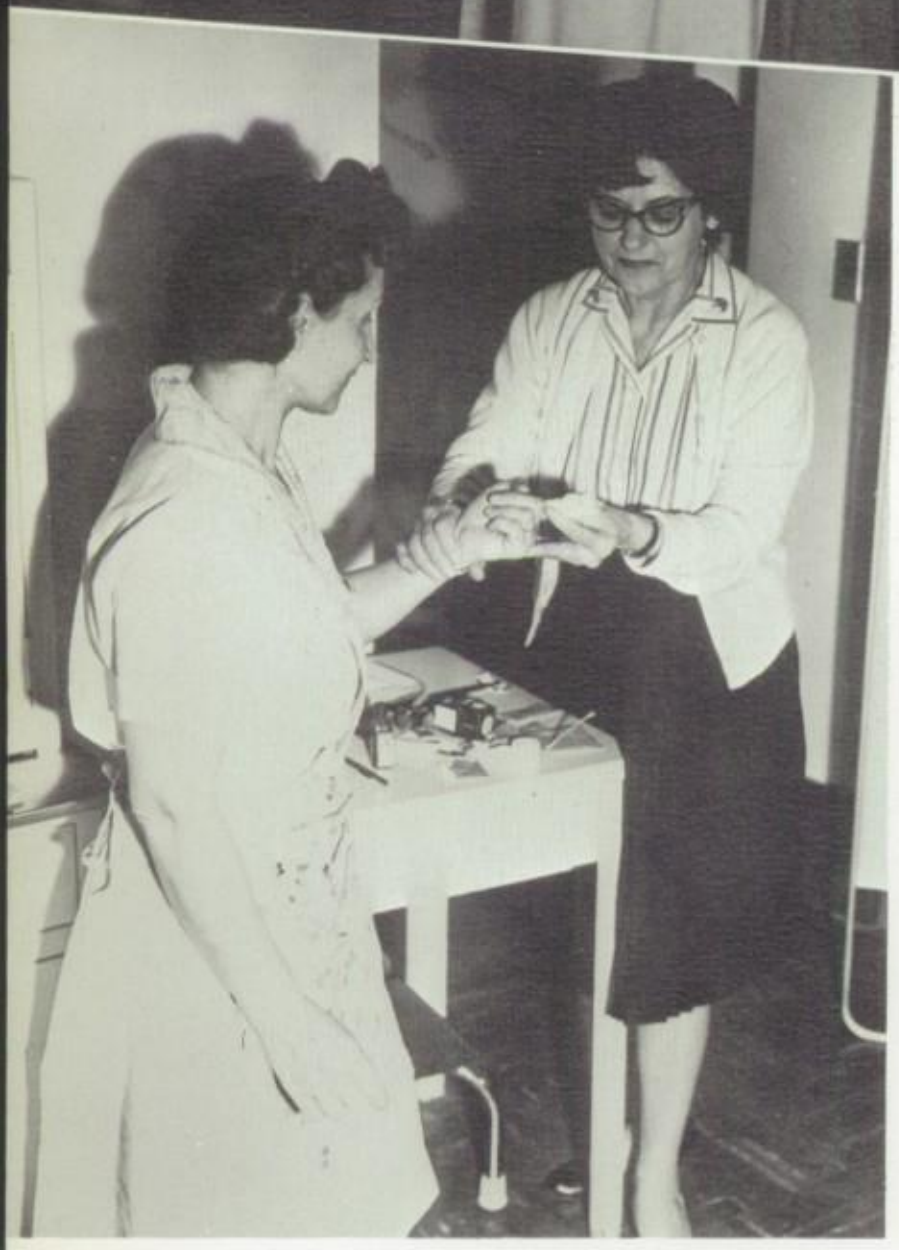
Art has a practical as well as esthetic side. Miss Vera Hyra, who heads the Home Economics department, directs both dress-making and cooking activites. In the shop, Mr. Benjamin Brooks trains the boys in the practical use of tools and woodworking. Mr. Clive Hunter instructs the mechanical drawing classes, while Mr. Reinowitz teaches shop and ceramics.

All of these courses help us to become well-rounded individuals.

Mr. Brooks approves of "Red" Virga's lathe work.

Health and Physical Education

Physical Education teachers: Henry Monaco, Mrs. Florence Quinlan, Mrs. Anna Mark, Joseph Seidell.



"Did you say you were feeling faint?"

Are you a soft American? Not physically fit, you say? Well, all you must do is participate in the activities of the PHYSICAL EDUCATION and HEALTH DEPARTMENT, and all this will change.

Through the efforts of this department, the Roosevelt student experiences a strenuous program designed to develop physical fitness and team cooperation, enabling him to enter a world where survival of the fittest is a basic requirement.

In the HEALTH DEPARTMENT, the boys and girls learn not only the value of good health, but also the principles for attaining and continuing physical fitness.

An essential ingredient in building a strong body is a well-balanced diet. Mrs. Natalia Stapleton, our dietician, oversees the planning, preparation, and serving of an attractive, healthful menu.

Are you a soft American? You can't be if you come from Roosevelt High School.

Mrs. Stapleton surveys the day's feast.

Mrs. Reagan listens to a student's "healthy" questions.

There's no time like lunch time!

Office Staff

A warm welcome and a sincere interest are the permanent assets of our PTA. Pride in Roosevelt and its many fine achievements prompt these ladies to act as "cheer-leaders" and spur adult support for us.

College-bound students benefit greatly from the carefully-organized College Night program. Our PTA also proudly participated in the ROOSEVELT Rededication ceremony reaffirming their interest in our work. Visions of the beautiful Senior Supper Dance give us a warm glow as we offer grateful thanks to our parents and teachers.

"Busy day, busy day, busy, busy, busy day!" sing the ladies in the office as they get down to the daily routine. This hard-working staff sits atop a pedestal of paperwork — daily bulletins, detention slips, college applications, schedules and more schedules.

Roosevelt's efficient organization is the end product of our congenial, capable office staff's struggles. Covering the office desks are records, notices, and stacks and stacks of letters, references and what-not. Every mark, every record card, every absence (be it physical or mental) is at the finger-tips of the lovely recorders of Roosevelt life. We all owe much to Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Cooper, and Miss Fetchko, and our grateful thanks go to them.

Bert's high up in the world—the mailman looks on.

Wedges are ready and waiting.

With the completion of the "New Roosevelt" we students have become increasingly conscious of our clean school and its excellent facilities. We are all indebted to Mr. Bert LeFevre and our energetic Custodial Staff who work diligently to insure the safety, comfort and well-being of all.

The personnel in our spotless, attractive cafeteria also strive to keep Roosevelt on the go with well-balanced tempting meals, attractively served. Directed by Mrs. Natalia Stapleton, the ladies manage to appease many hearty appetites with speed, skill and efficiency. We are grateful to them.

All eyes are on the Pilot Group of the National Honor Society.

Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service are the qualities which distinguish a member of the National Honor Society as an individual sincerely dedicated to upholding the high standards that have characterized Roosevelt High School. That the National Honor Society must be credited with the high degree of cooperation between student and teacher is illustrated by the willingness of its members to participate in worthy school activities and to offer such services as the tutoring of students who require additional help in their schoolwork.

Although their personal goals are varied, each member of the National Honor Society enthusiastically strives to strengthen Roosevelt's reputation as an intellectual leader in Yonkers.

National Honor Society Finalists: Seated: N. Barnett, M. Koster, L. Saxe. Standing: P. Gisolfi, S. Rosenzweig, L. Stokes.

"Scholarship is the ability and character of a man of learning." Ability and character vary with the individual, but these individual strengths united, keep our nation and our school functioning. Roosevelt High School has made great efforts to further knowledge and a love for knowledge in each individual student so that each may develop his potential scholarship.

Our students have shown their academic achievements in the recognition they have gained in the many competitive scholarship programs.

The National Merit Corporation awarded Letters of Commendation to thirteen Roosevelt students. In another nationwide contest, six members of the National Honor Society were named finalists in the National Honor Society Scholarship Program. Thirty students won New York State Regents Scholarships, while many other deserving students were chosen as alternates.

This year, as always, intense pride is felt as the list of Roosevelt scholarship winners continues to grow. With each award, deserving students are given increased opportunities to further their educational goals.

Achievement Honors

Linda Saxe, General Motors National Scholarship Semi-Finalist

Outstanding Senior Boy and Girl: Ronald Senio and Joan Fennimore

Michael Webster, All State Band

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

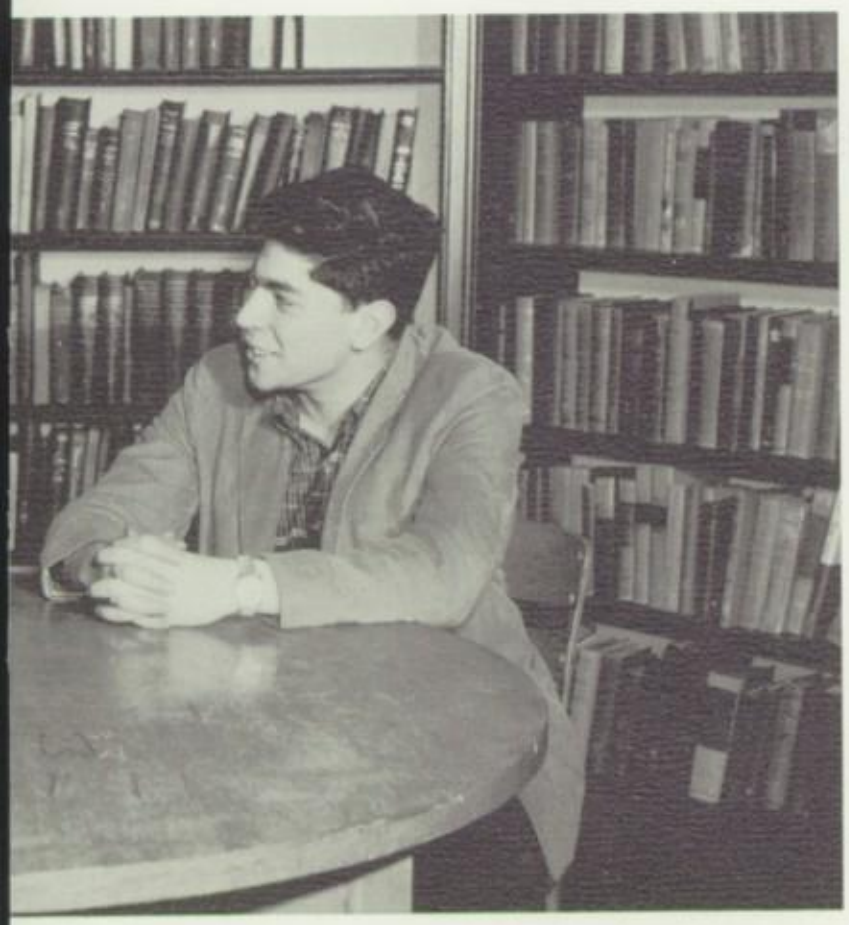
Students of Roosevelt have always been proud of our high rating, the result of continued effort toward excellence on the part of the student body.

Individual students have achieved outstanding scholastic records. Among these are LINDA SAXE, who has qualified for semifinalist rating in the General Motors National Scholarship Program, and ANTHONY ROSNER and HOWARD LESTER, semi finalists in the Westinghouse Talent Search. Their awards are only the forecast of future success.

In other fields of achievement too, Roosevelt students have made singular contributions. Such versatile young people are MICHAEL WEBSTER, selected to demonstrate his musical ability in the All-State Band, and EDWIN COSTA, one of three county football stars elected to the All-American High School Team.

Of course, Roosevelt has benefitted also from those students who consistently contributed to its busy life. Heading the list are JOAN FENNIMORE and RONALD INDORF, entrants in the D.A.R. and Thom McAn competitions respectively for Outstanding Senior Girl and Boy.

We are proud, not only of these seven students, but also of the many others who have helped Roosevelt to greater accomplishments.



Tony Rosner and Howard Lester, Semifinalists in Westinghouse's Talent Search.

Kyung Hwa Lee and her mother are now healthier and happier thanks to the Junior Class.

Junior classmen may be recognized easily in Roosevelt by the flashing of their coveted senior rings, as well as by their determined spirit and drive to inaugurate new policies and retain old traditions. Under the skillful leadership of the Junior Council and its able officers: Andrew Barrie, President; Gary Kaplan, Vice President; Arlene Flynn, Secretary; and Belle Levenson, Treasurer, members of the class reached for new heights. After achieving success in many areas, they celebrated one starry May night at the gala "Moon River" prom.

The class of 1963 has open-heartedly sponsored a new addition to the R.H.S. family — Kyung Hwa Lee, a ten year old Korean girl, adopted under the auspices of the "Save the Children Federation". Vigorously they organized fund drives so that Kyung Hwa and her family will have the encouragement to build useful lives. The Juniors sincerely hope that each succeeding Junior Class will underwrite the support of Kyung Hwa and her family.

Presently the "low man" on the totem pole is the Sophomore Class, the up-and-coming Rooseveltians of future years. Their cooperation and support of school and class activities have made them welcome additions to the Roosevelt tribe.

With the eager help of countless members of the class, the Sophomore Council representatives worked to highlight their achievements. They filled their treasury through the sale of personal stationery and celebrated the year with the annual Sophomore Prom in the spring.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Otilia Comparato, and Mr. Thomas Martin, the Class of 1964 and their officers: Michael Morrone, President; Richard Levey, Vice-President; Jane Young, Secretary; and Rita Epstein, Treasurer, have made great strides in becoming a spirited part of our school.

G.O. Store: S. Johnson, manager; L. Ivey, J. Ortolani, D. Azin, L. DuRona, G. DiGiacinto, J. Fennimore, Mr. Worthington.

Smoke signals send out news of new G.O. teepee. Brave Injuns, led by big chiefs Worthington, Aitcheson, and Seidell, and warriors Stokes and Senio, hold pow-wows to coordinate the R.H.S. tribe. Injun Princess Judy DiLena allocates school's wampum while Joan Fennimore records rising sun, falling moon, and all G.O. activities.

Late in Indian summer the tom-tom beat starts, calling all tribesmen to "Get-um your G.O. card now, before it's too late!" This card enables happy Roosevelt Injuns to cheer for their teams and buy R.H.S. insignias heap cheap. The G.O. store becomes a busy trading post before and after school. The G.O. council is one of peace, keeping Roosevelt's Injuns organized and happy.

What is L'ENVOI?

To members of L'ENVOI JUNIORS, it means difficult, time-consuming projects — selling advertisements, and pages of boosters and patrons to people, hesitant at first to purchase, but then most willing to support our school.

To members of the L'ENVOI staff, it is at first an aspiration, a hope for the future, and then many months of seeking new concepts, original ideas and phrases, and material significant of our years at Roosevelt.

To the students, L'ENVOI is an expectation surrounded with mystery and excitement; and finally, it is the tangible record of the school year, capturing faces, stories, and spirit between its covers.

L'ENVOI represents hours of tedious work and concerted efforts, enjoyment, and satisfaction. In it, we have tried to preserve, not only a record of our years here, but also the spirit that is our Roosevelt. Now the staff presents to all our own personal graduation gift —

Tony Rosner, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF, and Dr. Ruby Kaiser, FACULTY ADVISOR, cast a critical eye on a recent issue of the "CRIMSON ECHO".

Banner headlines proclaim scholastic success! Sports sections are filled with news of our latest victories! Controversial issues arouse public interest! All these features and more fill the lively columns of the CRIMSON ECHO. The spirit and sparkle so characteristic of Roosevelt are captured each month on its printed pages. Here we can find pleasurable reading as well as a concise survey of school and extra-curricular activities.

One glance into the offices of the ECHO reveal a fine staff of future journalists, artists, businessmen, photographers, and circulators hard at work. United under their chiefs by Dr. Ruby Kaiser, faculty sponsor, and Tony Rosner, Editor-in-chief, this renowned group work to keep our ECHO on the national scene as a stellar member of the Honorary Quill and Scroll Society.

Led by Miss Dorothy Andrews, the Roosevelt High School CHOIR has successfully completed another year of singing which has brought honor to both the members and its director. Presenting as its first performance a traditional program of Christmas and Hanukah songs, the choir continued the celebration of the holiday season by caroling through the halls before Christmas vacation. The CHOIR again sang in February at the dedication of Roosevelt's new wing, and culminated a busy year with its annual Spring Concert.

Twelve choir members were privileged to sing in the White Plains County Sectional Choir. The two full days spent in rehearsal were educational and enjoyable, providing a chance to make new friends as well as to learn and sing inspiring choral music.

Roosevelt's

Westchester County State Sectional

"Come on and hear, come on and hear, Roosevelt High School's finest band! It's the band, a swinging band, with the most spirit in the land!"

All Roosevelt answers the call and applauds the precision-stepping music makers led by high-strutting snappy twirlers. They amply provide the rousing music for the Indians at football games, Ragamuffin and Memorial Day parades, and Christmas and Spring concerts.

Leaning towards the more serious side of music making, seven band members have been honored with positions in the All-County Band and exhibited to Westchester the excellence of our band. Jazz has also become part of the repertoire of the Roosevelt band—the members performing with distinction at the L'Envoi Show and in the annual Variety Show. And certainly much to be admired are the scintillating twirlers, whose skill with their batons and snappy routines send the Roosevelt spirit soaring.

Jay and Liz listen to Miss Williams' advice.

Liz speaks of South-of-the-border living to the students at an assembly earlier this year.

Roosevelt plays an active role in creating world friendship by participating in the program of the American Field Service. Through this organization young people have the opportunity to live in other countries and transmit their ideas and culture to their new friends.

This year Isabel Goldman visited us from Uruguay, bringing with her the warmth and friendliness of the South American tradition. Also two Roosevelt students had the excitement of representing our country abroad. Ronald Senio visited Germany last summer, and Charles Schaefer spent six months in Italy. We shared their impressions of each country at the many assemblies, P.T.A. programs and informal classroom discussions.

To raise money for next year's activities the Roosevelt committee of A.F.S. collected old newspapers and sold stickers. Highlighting the campaign was the production of the annual "Crimson Capers."

Miss Agusta Williams, founder of the Roosevelt chapter, has been the guiding light of the committee. With the aid of Jay Drisko, president, the committee has succeeded in acquainting Roosevelt students with the customs and philosophies of other lands.

Mike Hall, Roosevelt's exchange student-to-be, speaks to some "old pros" in the field, Chuck, Ronnie, and Liz. Miss Williams seems to approve, as would Mike's female counterpart, Connie Weisman, missing from this cordial scene.

Miss Williams and the Semi-Finalists in the American Field Service: Kenneth Adams, Connie Weisman, Sue Warriner, and Mike Hall.

Peering out from under their sombreros, Spanish senors and senoritas awakened to the world around them through the program of the SPANISH CLUB. Like eager beavers they sent out letters to Latin American pen pals and created their own alliance for progress. Fearlessly, they published their own newspaper La Voz Hispana. "El Cid" became their hero in the chatter at their "mesa" at lunchtime.

Meanwhile, the suave shrug of the shoulders and the distinctive French flair personify the esprit de corps of the FRENCH CLUB. "We dig Yves" is their slogan, and "Chevaliers de la Table Ronde" their theme song, as "fractured" French soon becomes fine.

No one thinks of "Auf wiedersehn" when the GERMAN CLUB gets together. Under Herr Kaufmann's spirited sponsorship, the club enjoys an annual outing to a German movie, followed by a hearty dinner at a German restaurant.

This year the DEBATING CLUB has found great pleasure in debating the pros and cons of a most controversial topic, federal aid to education. Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Francine Fettman, President Anthony Rosner and Vice-President Sidney Rosensweig have joined the members in participating in many interesting and enjoyable discussions. This club will prove to be of great aid to its members in future years, since it not only enlightens them on current topics, but also improves their public speaking.

Under the able leadership of Roosevelt's nurse, Mrs. Vera Joslin, the NURSE'S AIDES demonstrate another facet of school spirit, unlimited service to others. These nurses-to-be have the opportunity of discovering first hand the assets and drawbacks of their profession, while gaining experience in the performance of their tasks..

With the aid of the HEALTH REPRESENTATIVES, who do the clerical work in the homerooms, Mrs. Vera Joslin is able to have complete files of the health records of all Roosevelt students.

The RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVES function as an essential part of the Health Department by supplying the student body with useful health tips and up to date information.

The Service League, composed of representatives of all school organizations has become an integral part of Roosevelt life. It aims to offer recognition to those boys and girls who give of themselves for the benefit or others.

Mrs. Julia Reagan, Mrs. Suzanne Buckley, Mrs. Kathleen Sussingham and Mr. Thomas Martin sponsor the League's activities.

Proceeds from cake sales are used to purchase service keys and to hold a luncheon in honor of those seniors who have been outstanding in service throughout their years at Roosevelt. The keys are presented at the annual formal assembly and luncheon in the spring.

A very important service group is the RECEPTIONISTS ever on hand to greet visitors to our school. Supervised by Mrs. Reagan, they also cheerfully run errands and act as hostesses at special functions and assemblies. Their bright, red badges are symbols of the pleasant smiles with which they perform their services.

Injuns aspiring to be future literary lights need not use smoke signals as a means of communication. The annual spring issue of REFLECTION, the Roosevelt literary magazine, provides ample space for their contributions of short stories, limericks, poems and plays. We bestow tribal honors upon Mrs. Florence Lafferty and the REFLECTION staff for a popular publication.

Cooperation is the key word between faculty and students especially within the book covered walls of the school library. Under the supervision of Miss Helen Havey, the LIBRARY AIDES work with speed and efficiency to keep our library in top shape for their fellow classmates.

In Roosevelt there is a group of avid readers who enjoy all types of reading. As members of the GREAT BOOKS CLUB, instituted this year by Mrs. Francine Fettman to encourage library students, they follow a list of books suggested by the University of Chicago. At a monthly meeting, there is animated discussion of the great books of all nations.

MATH CLUB

In keeping with the times interested Roosevelt students have organized the MATH CLUB this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Otilia Comparato, and Mr. Robert McDaniel, the group gathers to hear teachers lecture on various phases of the field. Students are strongly encouraged to do individual research. All agree that this has been a profitable year for MATH.

AUDIO VISUAL

Ooh's and Ah's echo in the auditorium as the stage is transformed from an indigo twilight mood to one of blazing sunshine at the flick of a switch. Ears perk up at the sound of an important lecture presented on tapes; eyes light up at the sight of a film flashed on the screen. AUDIO VISUAL boys, under the sponsorship of Mr. Martin, willingly offer their services to provide RHS with special touches.

Indians Lose City Title

With true fighting spirit the Roosevelt Indians football team, composed almost entirely of new blood, plunged into the 1961 season. Led by co-captains Ed Costa and Kerry DeCesare and backed up by a hard fighting squad, the football team exhibited the high standards of sportsmanship and team spirit traditional to Roosevelt.

Inexperience marked the Indians first two encounters with county teams. Peekskill, in defeating Roosevelt 39-7, showed its own great power and pointed out many weaknesses in our untested team. Although showing much improvement in the Port Chester game, the team was again trounced 32-0.

Bouncing back again, the team took on hefty A.B. Davis. Both the defensive team, which held Davis scoreless in the first half, and the offensive team, led by quarterback Ron Pufahl and fullback Ed Costa who lost a sixty-one yard touchdown because of a penalty, showed strong signs of finally working together despite the 13-0 defeat.

Tuckahoe was the next team to give Roosevelt a hard battle, winning 28-18. Ed Costa, however, had himself an excellent day, scoring all of Roosevelt's points on three powerful touchdown runs. Quarterback Pufahl, too, showed great improvement in running the ball club.

Roosevelt's first city league encounter was marked by a 13-13 tie with a spirited Lincoln team. With a 13-0 halftime deficit, Coach Monaco effectively used the running ability of backs Jack Ferrara, Julius Williams, and Danny Garret to tie the score. Garrett, especially, was outstanding, scoring both R.H.S. touchdowns.

Roosevelt finally achieved its first victory of the season by defeating Yonkers 13-0. Both defenses dominated play until Roosevelt took advantage of two self-made breaks in the final period. A blocked punt by Matt Hickey led to a touchdown run by Costa. Soon after, Len Stokes intercepted a Yonkers pass, setting up another touchdown by Costa.

The Rough Riders continued to dominate city competition as they soundly smashed the Gorton Wolves 21-6. After Roosevelt had lost two tallies on penalties. Danny Garret opened up the scoring in the second quarter with a three yard touchdown run. In the third quarter an interception of a pass by Sal Cuccia enabled Len Stokes to pass to Bob Grosch for a touchdown, giving R.H.S. a 12-0 lead. A third quarter safety and a fourth quarter touchdown run by Costa gave Roosevelt its final tallies.

Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Day game with Saunders-Commerce, although one of the best played, proved to be the most discouraging game of the year. Needing a victory to retain the city crown, Roosevelt tied Saunders-Commerce 0-0. Defense dominated this scoreless duel, for whenever either team began a goal-line drive the opposing defense met and withstood the challenge. Although Roosevelt lost the city title that day, they won the admiration of all the spectators for a clean and hard-fought game.

Under coaches Hank Monaco and Luther Thomas the 1961 Roosevelt football team showed outstanding spirit, enough spirit to carry over to next year and bring the city title back to R.H.S.

Players Sure To Aid Next Years Varsity

Coach Thomas looks over team during pre-game warm-up.

The Roosevelt High School Junior Varsity, with outstanding defensive play, swept the Yonkers City Championship for the 1961 season. A trio of hard-running backs, John Mackenzie, Jim Belluzzi, and Mickey Flood, contributed mightily to the fine team effort.

Stalwarts for the defense were Fred DeFillippo, Rich Eifler and Tom O'Donoghue, who did an exceptional job of clearing the way for versatile stars.

While the little Indians scored 12 touchdowns (six by Mackenzie) they allowed only two to be scored against them. A vote of thanks for this bright future varsity is due to Coach Kosky whose enthusiasm sparked the team on to the City Championship.

The Crimson Harriers swept the City Meet and thus became the City Champions for the 1961 season. The team included senior stalwarts Ted Ware, Steve Eifert, Tom McLaughlin, Kent Williamson, and Bob Boyton. The addition of Alan Yates, Jerry Gold, Marshall Kramer, and Dan Kimball, all fine new sophomores, greatly aided the team in its sparkling victory over the other city teams on the grueling two and a half mile course.

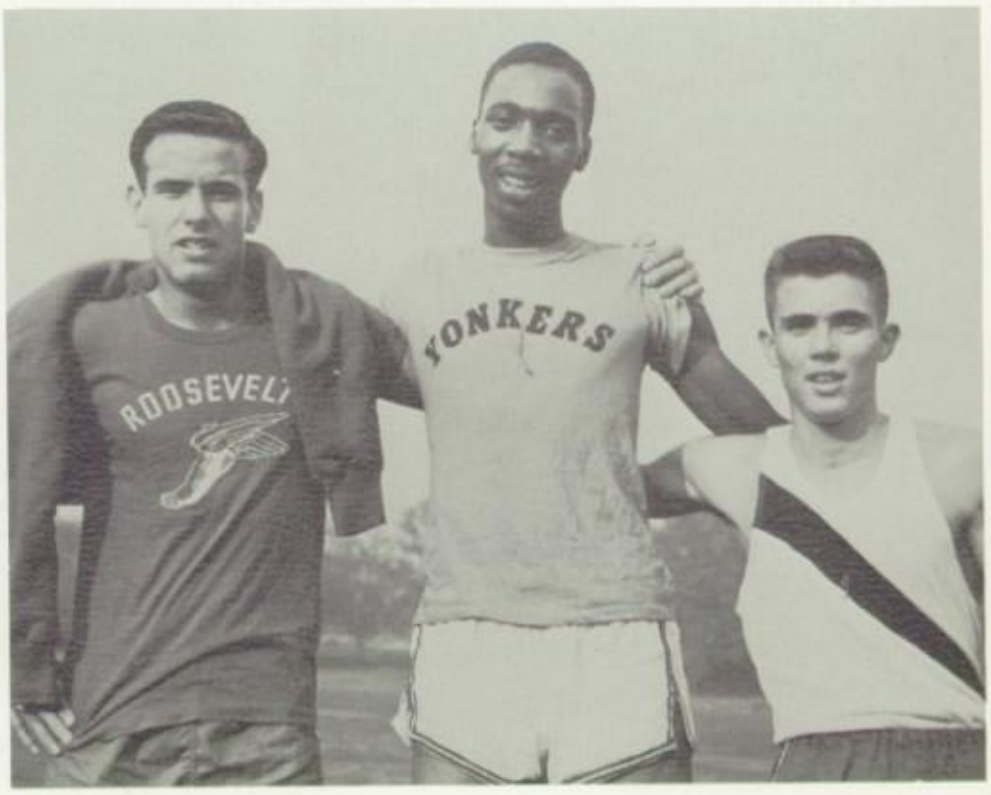
Top man on the team was Ted Ware who ran the course in 13:32, which enabled him to place second in the city, just one second behind the winner.

Much of the credit for the great season must go to Coach Seidell whose enthusiasm sparked the whole team.



City meet winners: Ted Ware (2nd), Jim Anderson (1st), Steve Doyle (3rd).

Crimson Cagers Tie

For an unprecedented fifth consecutive year, the Roosevelt High School basketball team has captured the Yonkers City League title, this year holding it jointly with Yonkers High School. During this five year period, Coach Joe Seidell's cagers have compiled an amazing 45-5 record in rugged city competition.

Looking unimpressive in their first three games, the team displayed a stunning reversal of form by winning eleven of their remaining thirteen games, including a string of nine consecutive victories. The key figure in this sudden pickup was junior backcourt star, Doug Ford. Inserted as a starter in the fourth game, Doug led his teammates to a strong 62-36 victory over Lincoln. From then on he was an outstanding figure on the court, scoring many valuable baskets and leading the club in assists.

Doug's backcourt companion was Bobby Allen who is generally recognized as Westchester County's best defensive player. Bobby's ability as a playmaker and strong leadership on the court made him invaluable in the team's success. Up front were Andy Cavaliere, the club's high scorer with a 17 point average; Bob Grosch, the team's leading rebounder; and Dave Friedman, whose 14 point average and strong work under the boards made him a great asset to the team. Roosevelt's all important sixth man was sophomore Alan Guthrie whose ability enabled Coach Seidell to remove any of his starters without impairing the effectiveness of the club.

Roosevelt gained its share of the Yonkers city crown in an exciting fashion. After losing their first city encounter to Yonkers 64-54, they did not taste defeat at the hands of a city team for the remainder of the season. Outstanding in this string of victories was the return match against Yonkers. Behind by nine points with five minutes remaining, Roosevelt showed their ability to produce in the clutch by pulling out a 53-51 victory.

With a successful season behind him, Coach Seidell is looking for an even better record in 1963, when he will have returnees Friedman, Ford, Cavaliere, Guthrie, and Steve Cohen as a nucleus for a winning team. And it goes without saying that he's ready for that sixth straight title!

J. V. Basketball

Led by the playmaking of Jerry Gold and the rebounding and scoring of Ronnie Smalls, the J.V. Basketball Team completed one of its finest seasons in recent years. Finishing with a record of 10-6 the quintet came within one point of tying Yonkers High School for the city championships. Besides the aforementioned two, George Martin, Allan Yates, Frank Jensen, Adrian Misarti, and Emmett Williams were particularly potent weapons of Coach Hank Fischer's explosive arsenal. If these players and others can continue to develop at their present rate they are sure to be a great asset to next year's varsity basketball team.

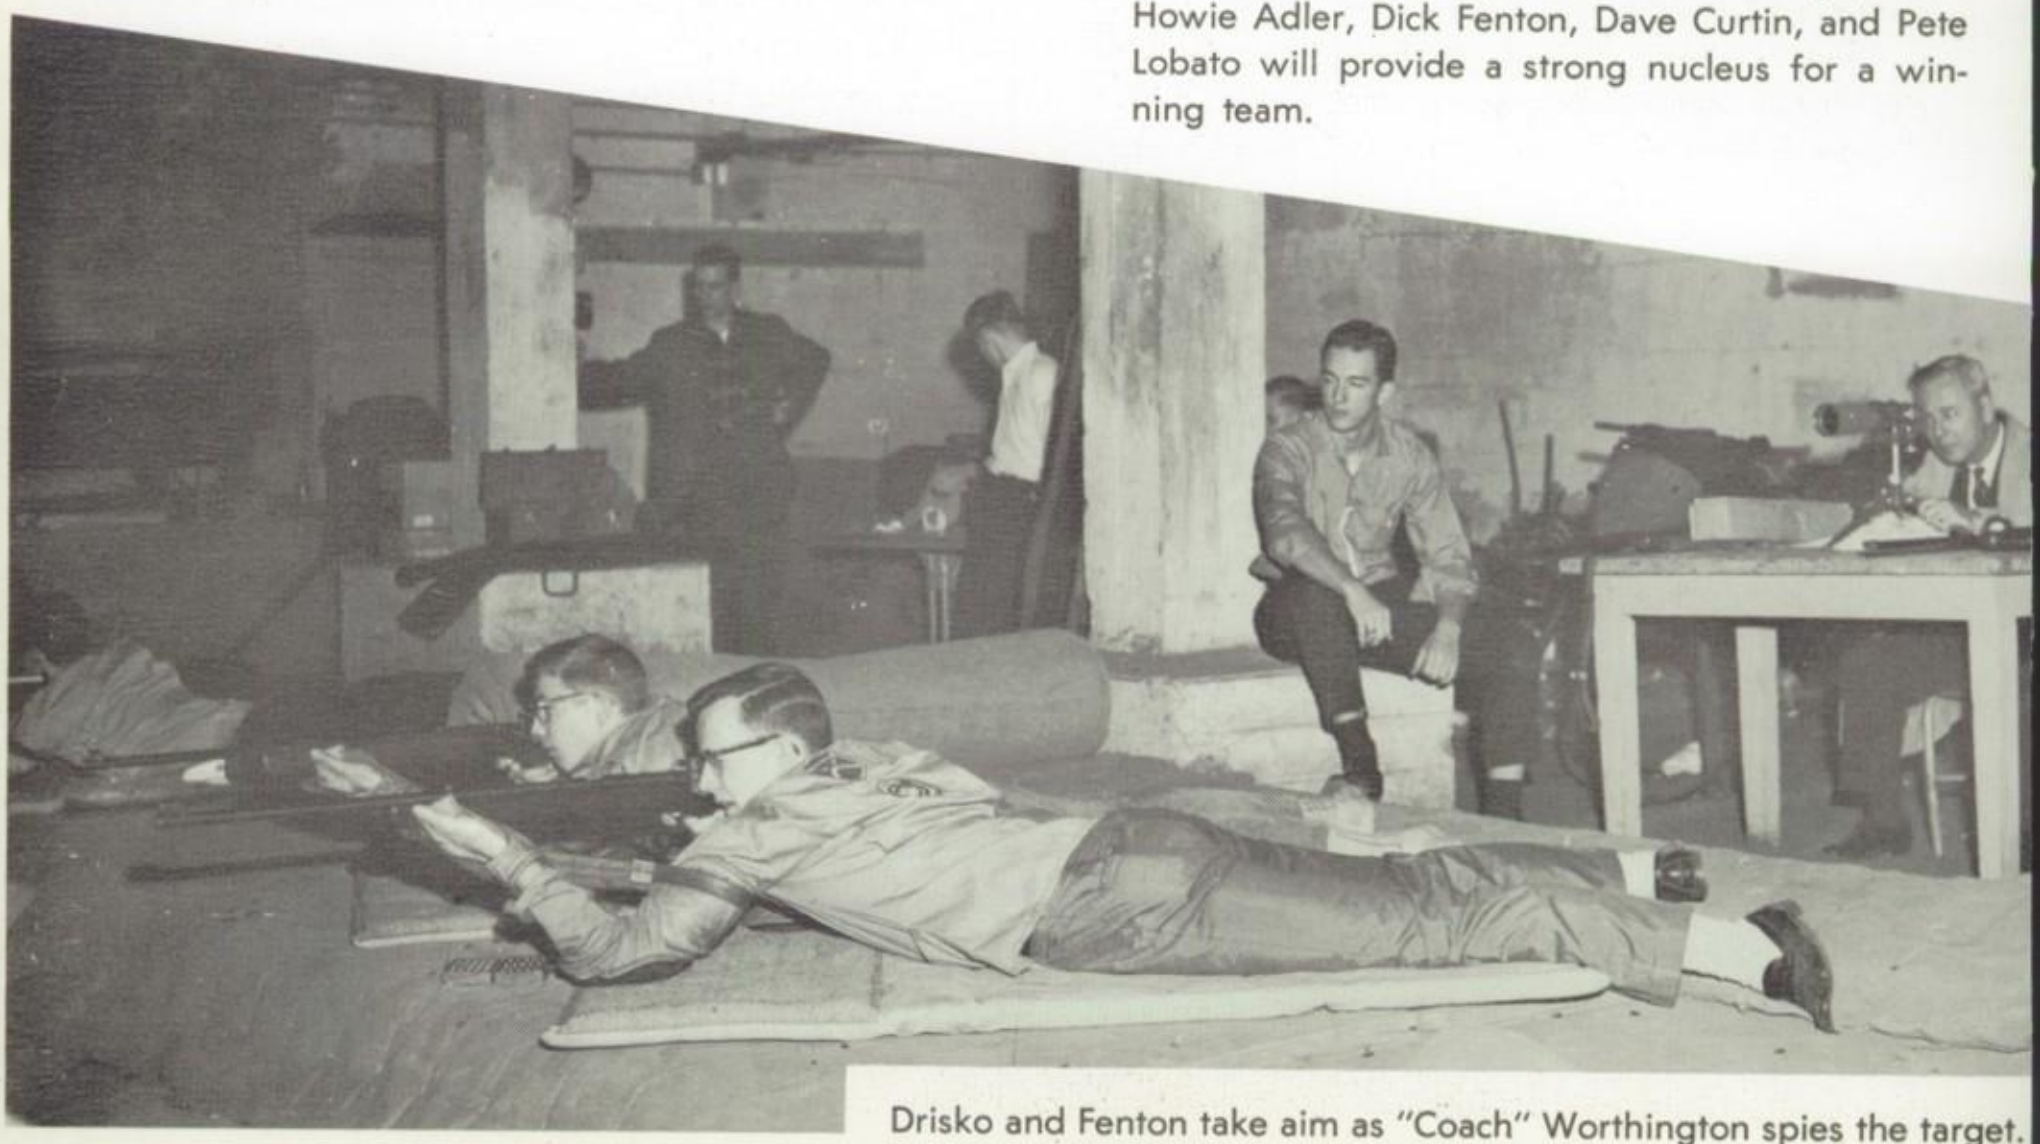
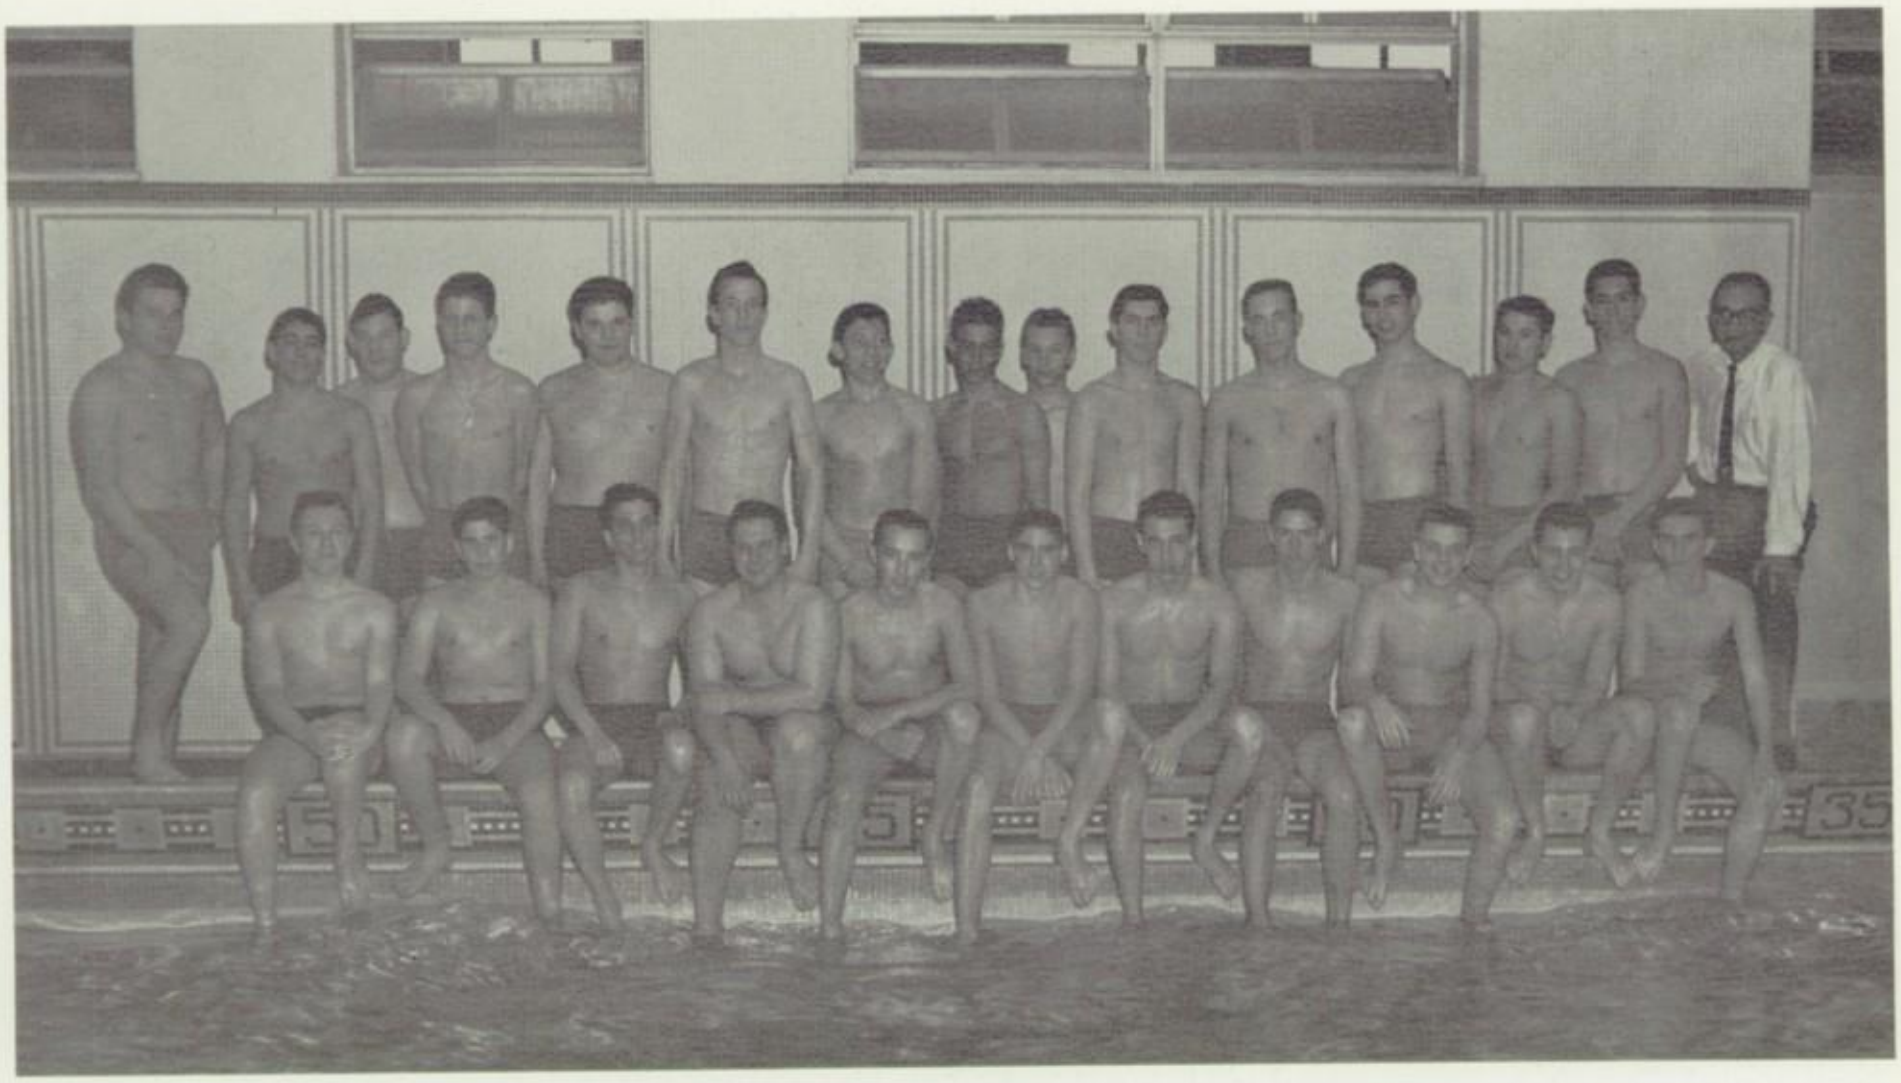
This past season was marked by a number of close defeats for the Indian Marksmen coached by Bruce Worthington. Gaining experience through competition, the team improved steadily and was able to capture fifth place in the County meet held at Mamaroneck. The outstanding member of this year's squad was Co-captain Jay Drisko, who set an all time R.H.S. record by turning in a 189 total in competition against A. B. Davis. Jay's ability also enabled him to capture the individual scoring title at the County Meet with a score of 185.

Coach Worthington is looking forward to better things for next year when returning juniors Howie Adler, Dick Fenton, Dave Curtin, and Pete Lobato will provide a strong nucleus for a winning team.



Drisko and Fenton take aim as "Coach" Worthington spies the target.

Swimming Team



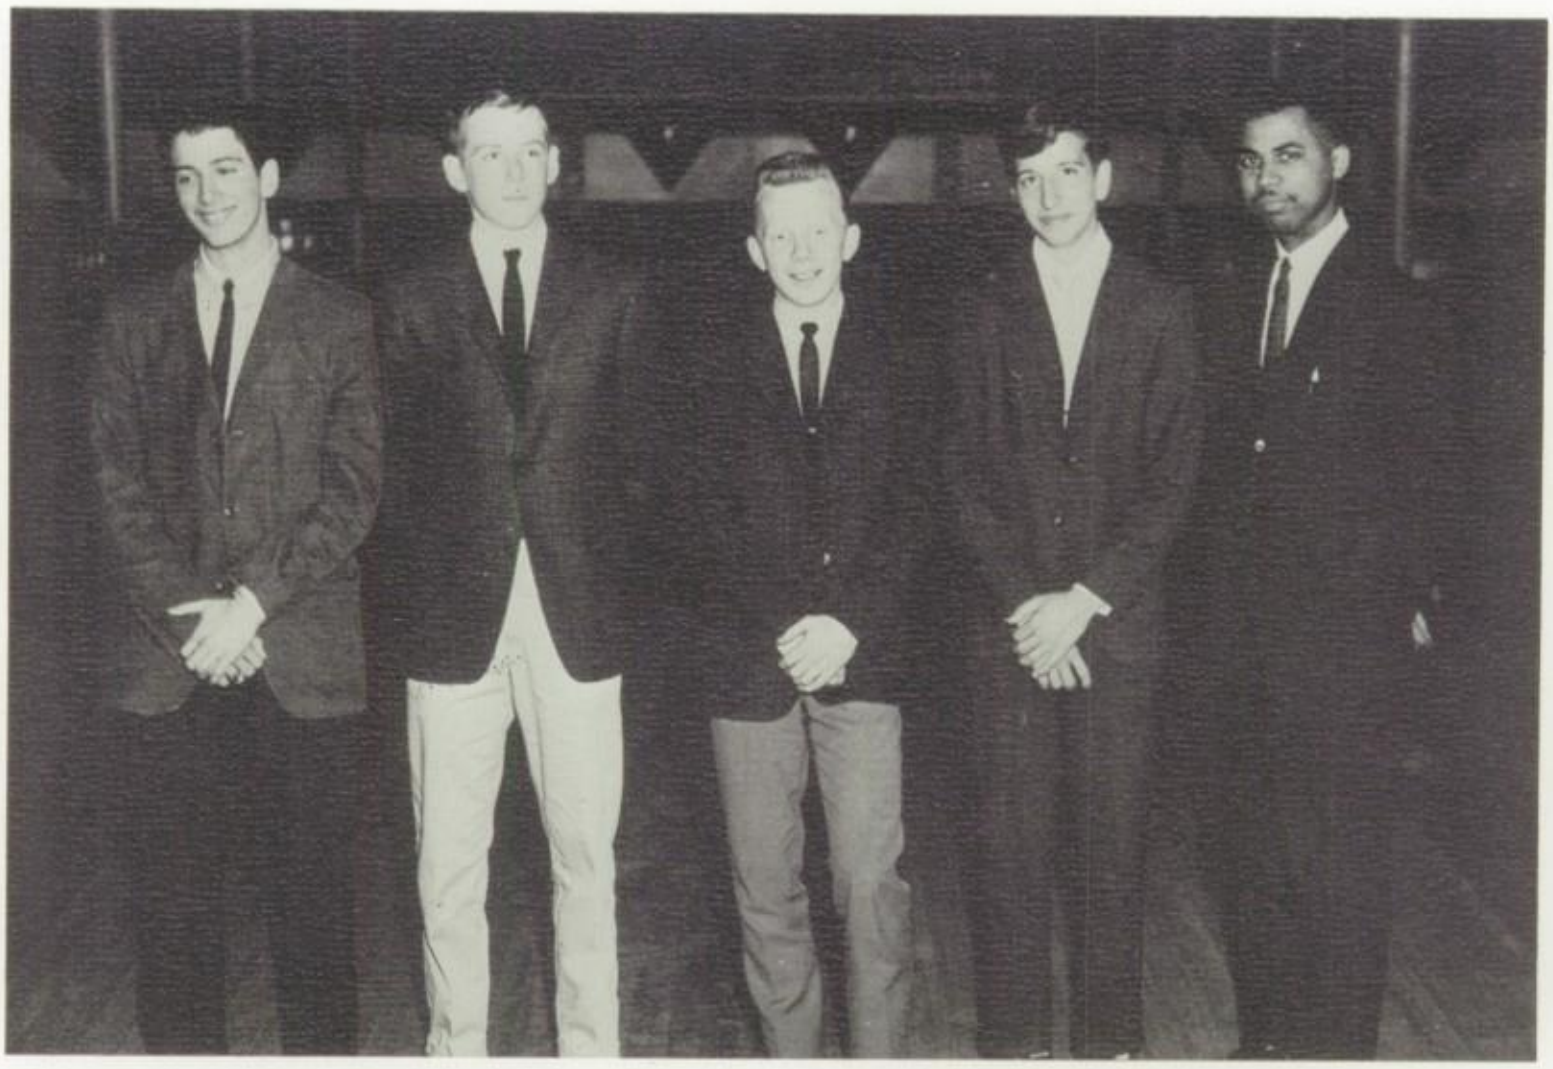
Seated: W. Abelson, D. Freeman, C. Nottingham, S. Amman, H. Hayes, S. Eifert, R. Mastravito, C. Barbier, T. McLaughlin, P. Krebser, E. Olstein. Standing: M. Healy, D. Friedman, M. Siderman, M. Panio, R. Goldsmith, T. Heskey, B. Berkson, R. Peruso, R. Miller, J. Karrow, H. Royston, S. Kamin, H. Brossman, J. Fraser, Coach Joe Rodner.

A fine showing from the entire team enabled the Roosevelt swimming team to finish third in the Yonkers City League with a 6-4 record. Often a very few points made the difference between defeat and victory for Coach Joe Rodner's forces.

Team captain Tom McLaughlin was outstanding in city competition, going undefeated in the 200-yard freestyle event. Tom, incidentally, was the only representative of the Yonkers schools to qualify in the Section 1 championships. Other consistent winners in their individual events were Richard Mastrovito, Howard Royston, Gil Barbier, John Karrow, and Skip Ammann. Coach Rodner was more than satisfied with these and other members of this year's squad.

Goldsmith and McLaughlin set to go.

Bowling



BOWLING TEAM—J. Walters, T. Geist, W. Brady, N. Antonucci, Mr. Hunter.

This year's Bowling Team, coached by Mr. Hunter, finished fifth in city competition. Consistent winners for the team were Bill Brady, whose 570 series was high for the year, and Ted Geist, whose 204 was the team high for a game. With few seniors leaving the team, Mr. Hunter holds high hopes for an improved record next year.

Antonucci rolls another strike.

Golf

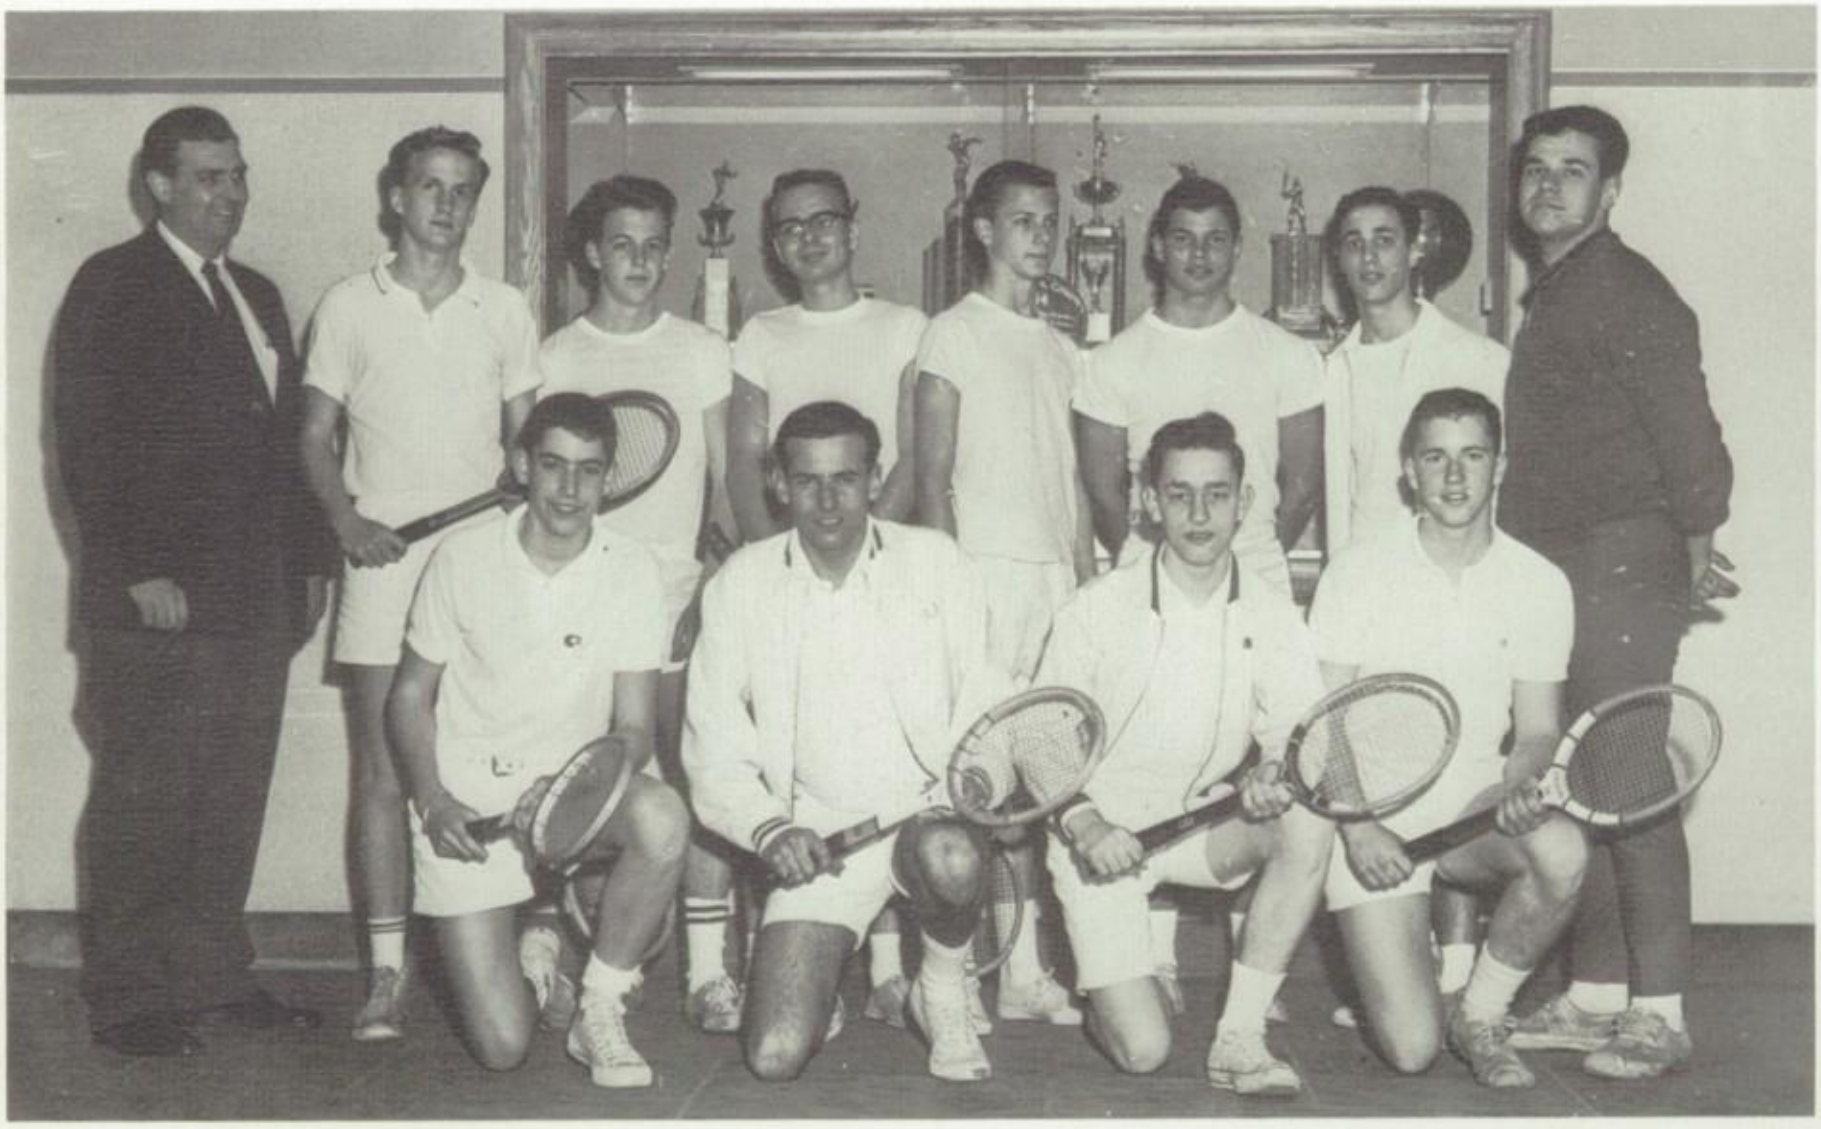
With five consecutive city titles behind them, this year's Indian Golf Team is looking forward to an extremely successful season on the county links. Returning from last year's championship squad are captain George Minchak, Doug Ford Jr., Bob Mayer, and Richard Gonda. This foursome plus newcomers Bob Peterson and John Sivilich are sure to put up a good fight against all challengers in an effort to retain the city and county titles which they now hold.

Ford's set to tee off.

Minchak follows through.

Tennis



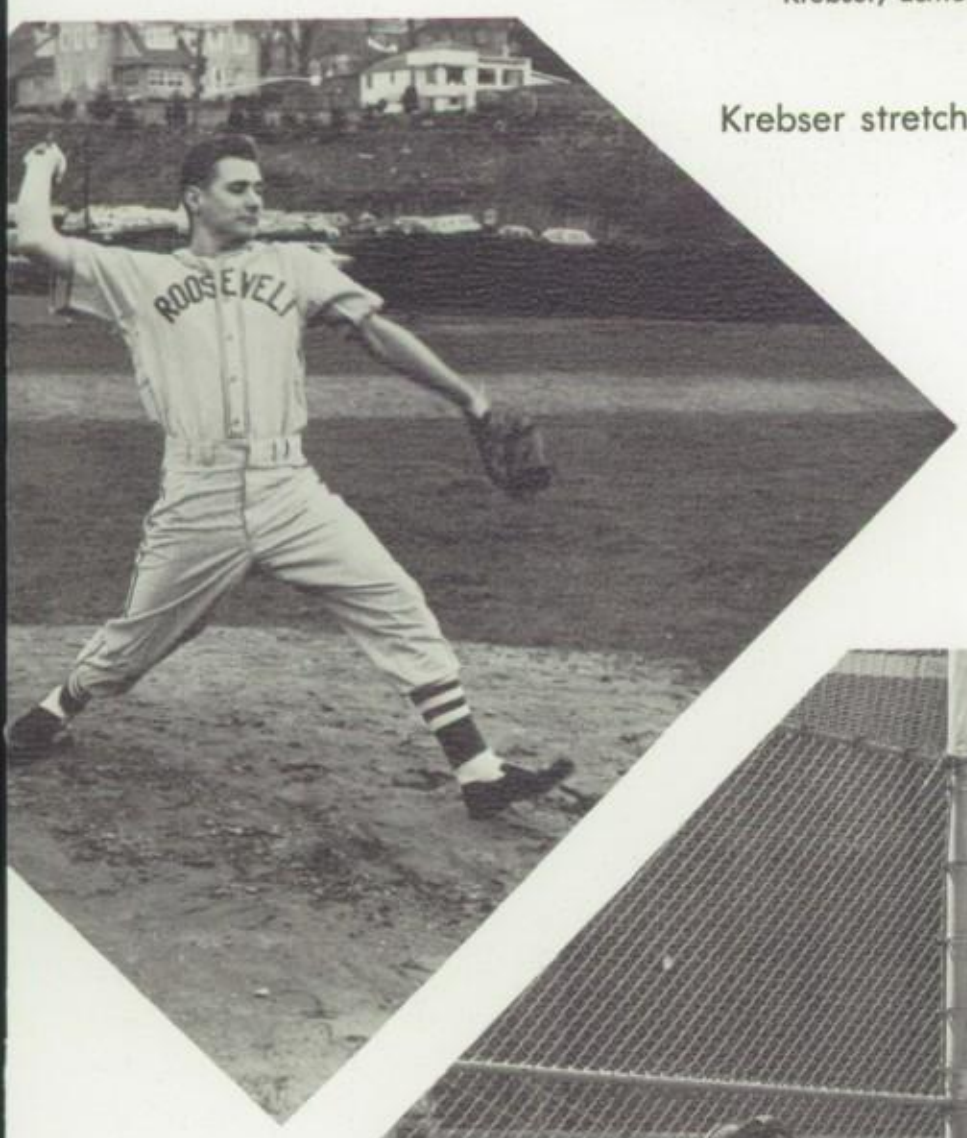
TENNIS TEAM—Kneeling: K. Adams, T. Ware, E. Orsenigo, C. Flood. Standing: Mr. David Aitcheson, G. Watson, R. Brown, T. Selinski, C. Wilker, M. Kreinik, J. Formato, S. Book (Mgr.). Absent: W. George, L. Goodman.

Coach David Aitcheson is looking forward to another successful year on the clay courts for the Roosevelt Tennis Team despite the loss of four important men to graduation. Much of this optimism is brought about by the presence of Ted Ware whose strong play enabled him to go undefeated in city competition last year. With Ted as a starting point, Coach Aitcheson hopes to build a strong new team which will be able to capture the tenth consecutive city title for R.H.S.

Ware smashes another strong serve.

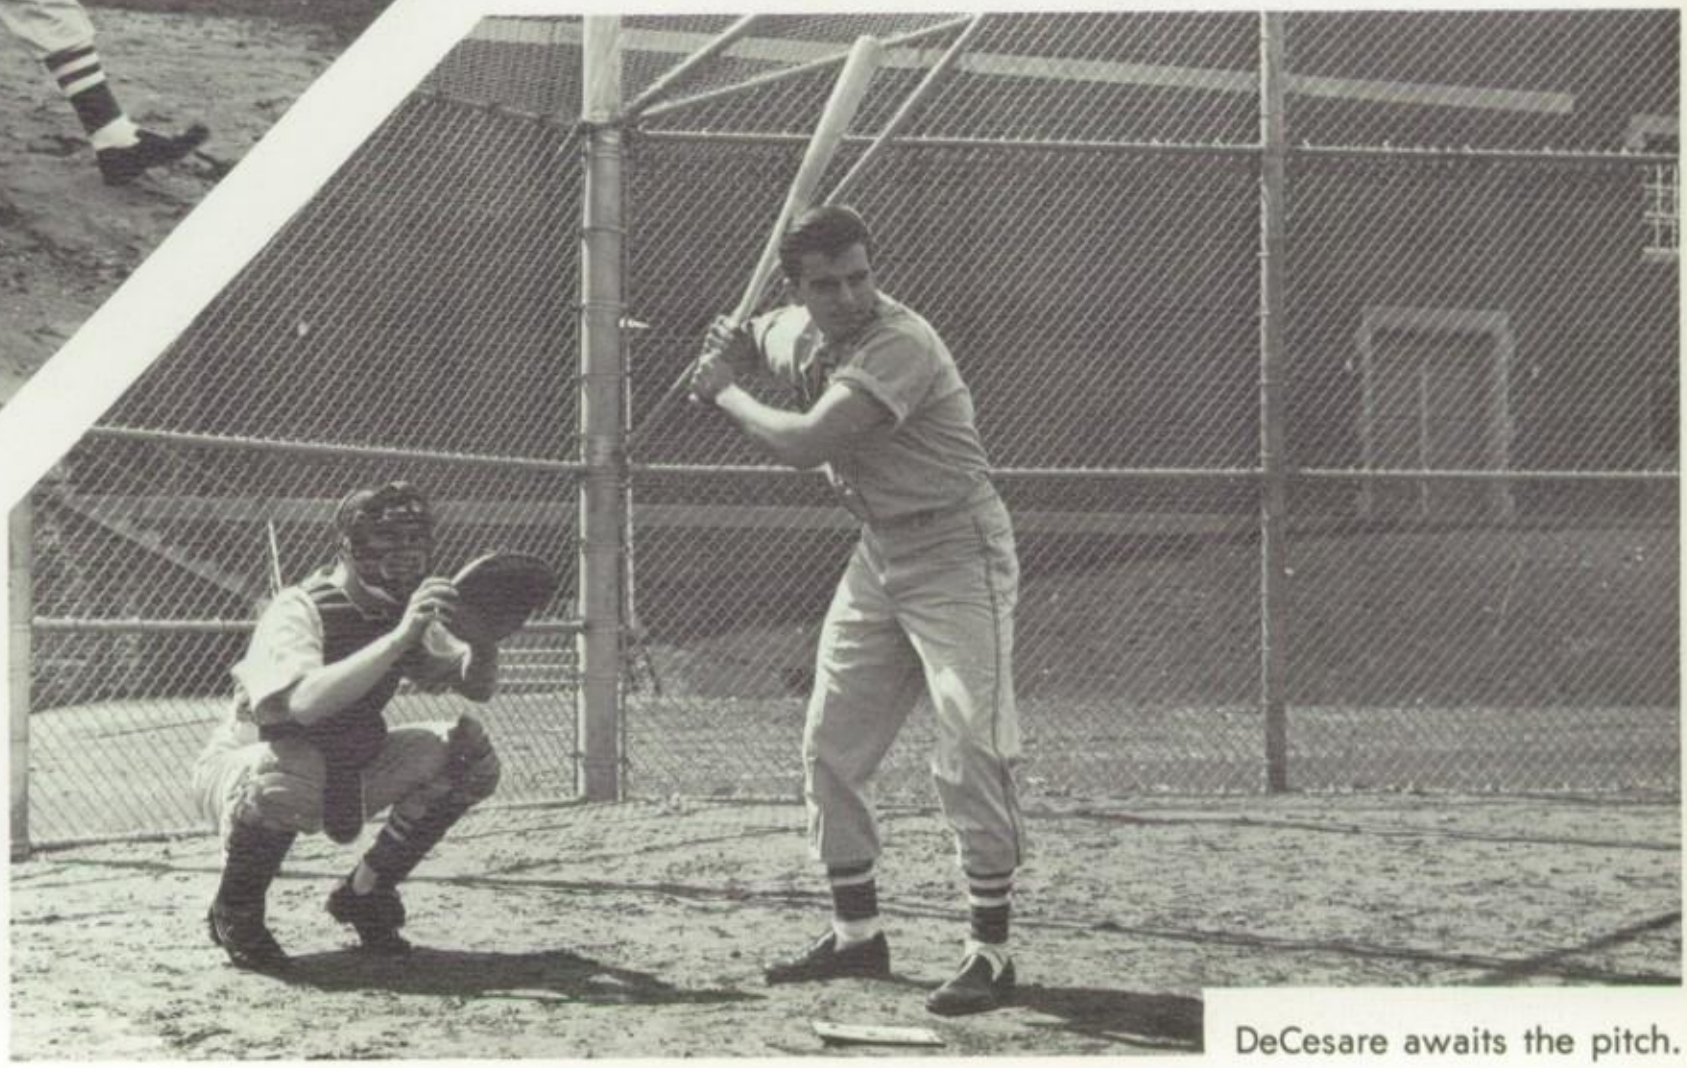
Baseball

Krebser, Echternach, Naglieri, DeCesare, and Kotler listen to Coach Seidell.



Krebser stretches out.

Having lost eight of nine starters from last year's championship Baseball Team, Coach Joe Seidell will have to start from scratch to field a team capable of stretching Roosevelt's string of city titles to six straight. Much of the team's hope for this year rests on the shoulders of heavy-hitting centerfielder Kerry DeCesare and hard-throwing pitcher Pete Krebser. These two plus returnees John Echternach and Ira Kotler will provide a strong nucleus around which Coach Seidell can build a team capable of bringing Roosevelt another city title.



DeCesare awaits the pitch.

Returning Lettermen to Aid Varsity

Having lost only three lettermen to graduation, Coach Hank Moncao is looking forward to a successful year for the Crimson Track Team. With men such as Steve Eifert, Bob Allen, Bob Repace, Mike Roben, Kent Williamson, Jeff Cox, Julius Williams, and Adrian Misarti returning from last year's squad, Roosevelt has an experienced man in almost every event. This experience, plus more frequent practice sessions, will surely enable the team to improve on last year's fourth place finish in the city and may even enable them to bring the city trophy back to R.H.S. after a year's absence.

President Kennedy would be among the first to give a vote of thanks to Mrs. Anna Mark and Mrs. Florence Quinlan, for their efforts in building up the physical fitness program in Roosevelt. These instructors combine efficiency in gymnastics with fun and sportsmanship.

The Girls' Gym is a flurry of activity from one season to the next. Whether it be baseball or basketball, tennis, or toe-tapping, each girl finds her own outlet through competitive sports.

So this is what Glenn felt like!

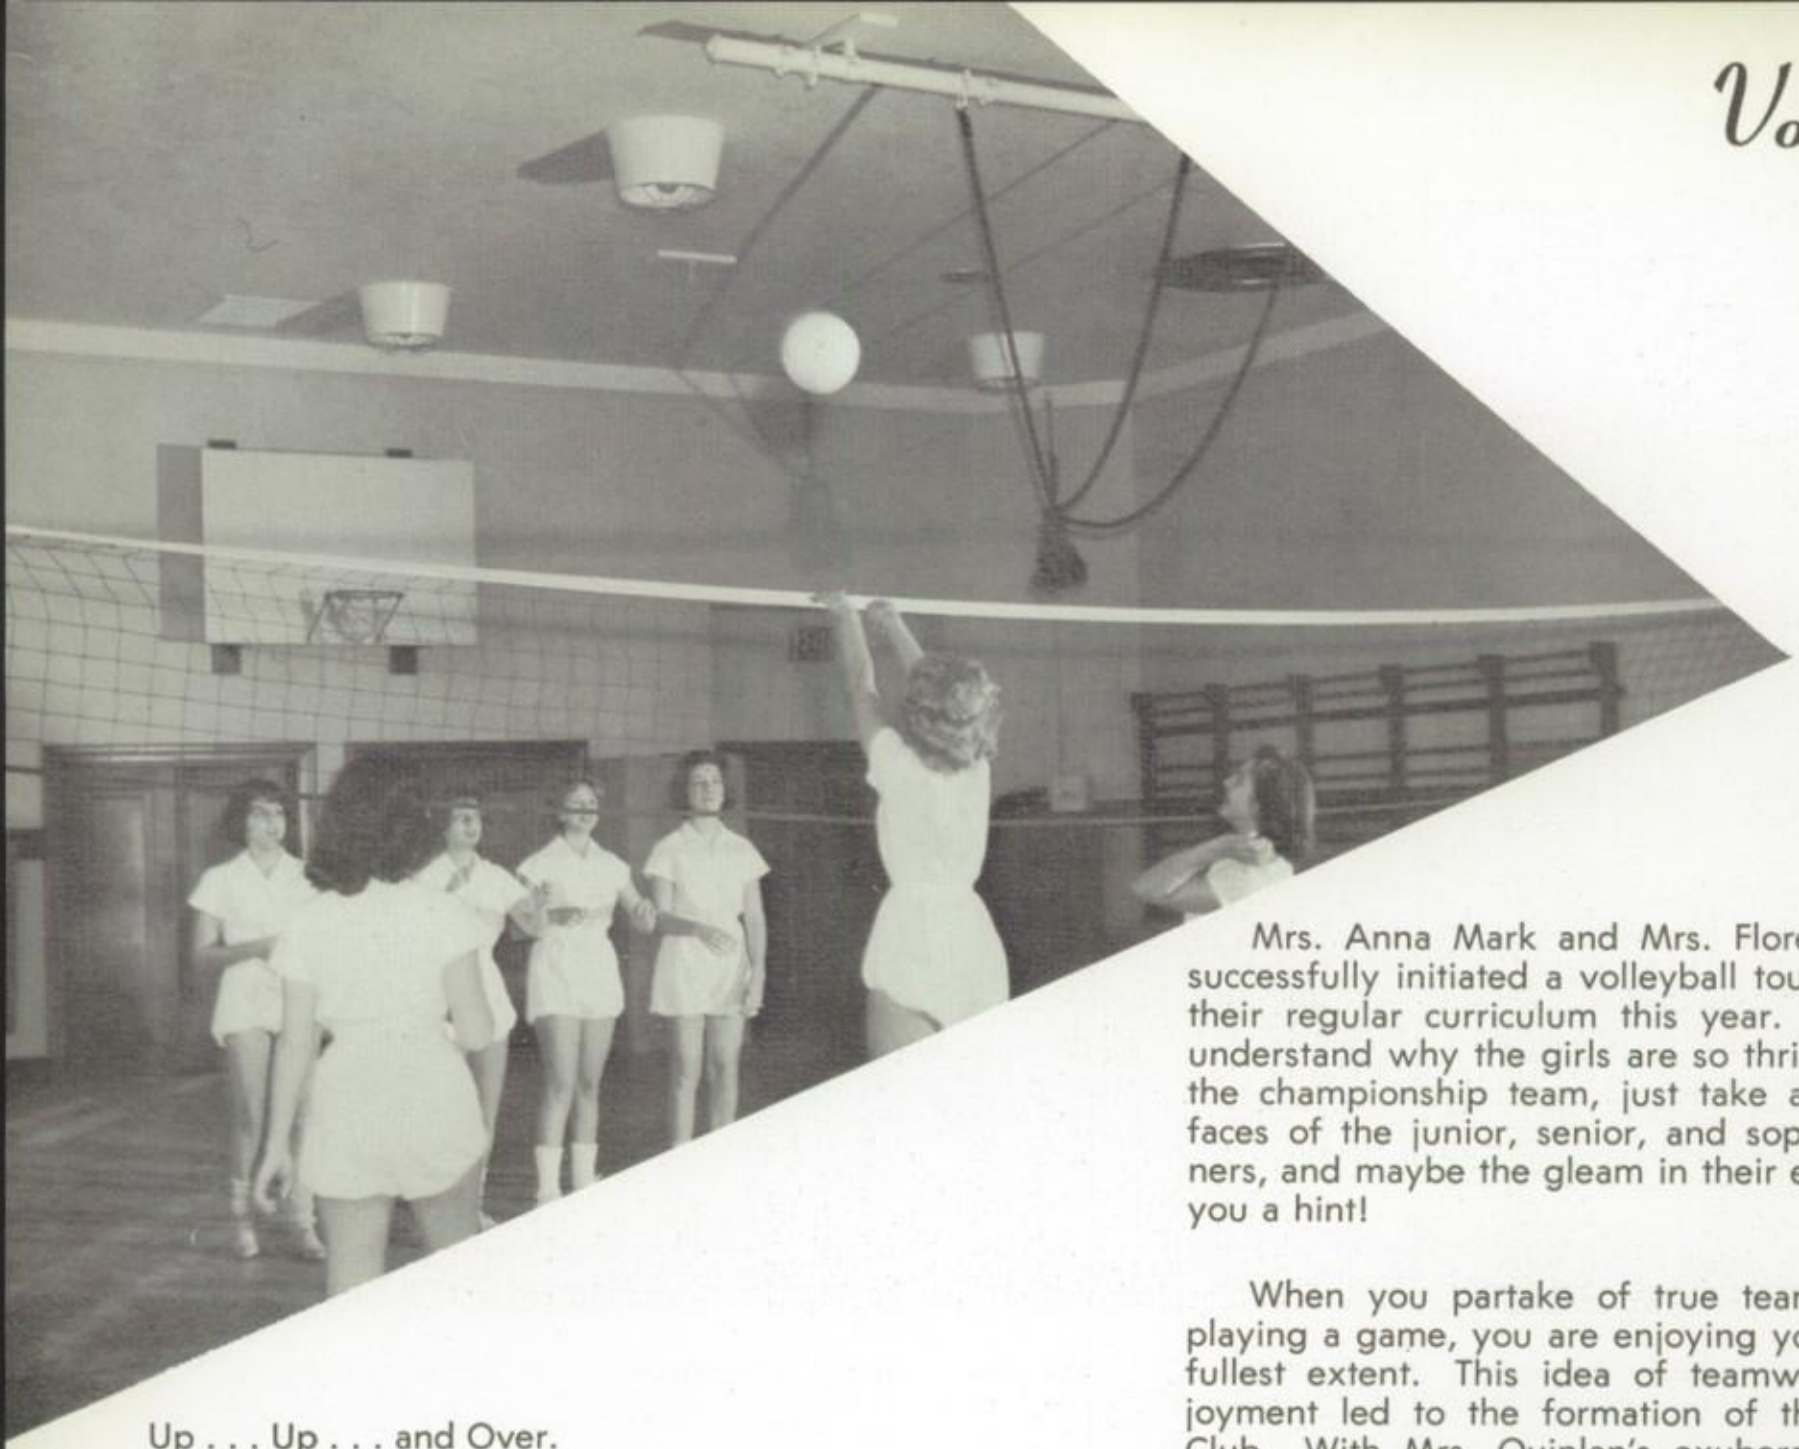
Volleyball



Up . . . Up . . . and Over.

Mrs. Anna Mark and Mrs. Florence Quinlan successfully initiated a volleyball tournament into their regular curriculum this year. If you can't understand why the girls are so thrilled to be on the championship team, just take a look at the faces of the junior, senior, and sophomore winners, and maybe the gleam in their eyes will give you a hint!

When you partake of true teamwork while playing a game, you are enjoying yourself to the fullest extent. This idea of teamwork plus enjoyment led to the formation of the Volleyball Club. With Mrs. Quinlan's exuberant spirit added to the skill of the club members every Wednesday afternoon, how could we find a more perfect example of vigorous exercise and fun too?

Headline: Strikers and Strutters

The new Central Lanes were headquarters this year for the popular GIRLS' BOWLING CLUB. With Mrs. Anna Mark's endless patience and expert guidance, the new recruits as well as the veterans had a chance to improve their technique. The outcome of this year's efforts was a mutual feeling of satisfaction and enjoyment.

Meeting every Thursday in the Girls' Gym, also under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mark, the hard working dance enthusiasts combined grace with skill to create and execute scintillating routines. The DANCE CLUB performed dances of many lands for the delighted audience of the school assembly, extracting from their enticing performance the gratification of accomplishment.
